150 PLANES IN CHANNEL BATTLE

Sea Warfare

Fighting fiercely for control of the vital sea routes from Gibraltar to the Suez, units of the mighty British and Italian (left) fleets today clashed in the battle of the Mediterranean for the first time. British claim one Italian battleship was hit... and both sides contend that the other is in retreat.

150 PLANES IN CHANNEL BATTLE

LONDON, July 10 (AP)—Ten German planes were reported shot down this afternoon in a great air battle over England's southern coast and the English channel involving nearly 150 planes. An air raid warden at a southeastern English port said two formations of German raiders, each nearly 50 strong, attacked a convoy of small ships and he believed one ship was sunk.

3 NAZI BOMBERS FALL

"I saw three bombers go down in less than two minutes as the British fighter pilots maneuvered to encircle the Nazis," he declared.

The warden was authority for the estimate of the forces involved and German planes destroyed.

The warden said that in a colossal dive-bombing assault, the Germans enveloped the ships in a cloud of smoke.

Anti-aircraft guns (presumably on the ships or the nearby coast) helped the fighting planes break up the raid and smoke poured from several of the raiders as they retreated toward Boulogne, on the French coast.

British accounts of another phase of the battle, over land, said more than 30 German bombers, accompanied by German Messerschmitt fighting planes, kept in close formation until swift British Spitfires split them up.

Then they released their bombs, shaking buildings for miles inland, and turned back toward France, according to British accounts.

FEW KILLED

The government announced that "a few persons" had been killed on the south coast of Britain when German bombers struck there.

Anti-aircraft batteries went into action elsewhere along the coast as raiders made attacks which have become almost a daily routine. Many casualties were reported to have been caused in Wales by German bombs.

"When our planes returned," one witness said, "They did a sort of war dance in the sky, cutting figure eights in apparent high glee at having put eight of the enemy to flight and accounted for at least two of them."

Anti-aircraft batteries were kept active elsewhere along the English coast as German raiders continued a series of attacks which have become daily routine.

WALES HARD HIT

The air ministry and ministry of home security issued the following communique:

"This morning enemy aircraft dropped bombs on two towns on the channel coast, near the Briston Channel and on a Norfolk coast village.

"No military damage was caused in any area.

"Some houses were hit and there were a small number of casualties, including a few persons killed on the south coast."

German Air Raid Successes Claimed

BERLIN, July 10 (AP)—The German high command announced today that frequent air battles had been fought over the English channel as Nazi warplanes bombed British ships off England's eastern and southern coasts and attacked munitions works and oil tanks ashore.

Hitler in Parley Warns Hungary on Upset in Balkans

MUNICH, July 10 (AP)—Hungary's leaders were told definitely by Adolf Hitler and the foreign ministers of Germany and Italy today that Hungary must not upset the Balkan applecart at this time by trying "to secure her rights" from Rumania, informed German sources said.

Premier Count Pal Teleki and Foreign Minister Count Istvan Csaky, who came to discuss Hungary's demands that Rumania restore at least part of war-lost Transylvania to her, conferred first with Foreign Ministers Joachim von Ribbentrop and Count Galeazzo Ciano and then were received by Hitler.

While both Hitler and Premier Mussolini of Italy are agreed that their program for scrapping the Versailles and other World War treaties means also revision in the Near East, the informants said Hitler holds this is not the time for revisionists to press their claims too aggressively.

BLOCKADE DISCUSSED

However, a brief communique issued by DNB, the official German news agency, said the German-Italian-Hungarian discussions "proceeded in the spirit of the traditional friendly relations among the three states."

There were indications that measures for tightening the blockade against England through closer integration of the Balkans in the axis economic system were discussed.

CIANO SEES HITLER

Ciano, who conferred in Berlin Sunday with Adolf Hitler, had arrived a short time before following a tour of the western battlefields where France was humbled by German armored legions.

Informed circles said the presence of Ciano could be taken as an indication that Germany and Italy would be in complete accord on any decisions respecting the axis attitude toward Hungary and the Balkan situation.

Diplomatic sources in Budapest reported a preliminary agreement already had been reached whereby the axis powers would call upon Rumania to meet Hungary's territorial claims by ceding her a part of the rich border province of Transylvania—Editor's Note.

British Claim Ship of This Class Hit in Mediterranean Battle

BOTH BRITAIN, ITALY CLAIM VICTORY IN BIG SEA BATTLE

By the Associated Press

The battle of the Mediterranean—a struggle between Europe's two greatest sea powers over empire lifelines—has begun, and both Italy and Great Britain claimed victory today after 48 hours of intermittent shellfire, torpedoing and bombing.

In Rome the Italian high command pictured one British naval for in the role of the attacker, supposedly intent upon raiding the central Mediterranean and attacking by sea and air "some important coast position of ours."

The British acknowledged no losses.

ROME TELLS OF LOSSES

The Italian score sheet (noteworthy in that it acknowledged greater Italian losses than claimed by the British), follows:

Scored against the British—

Scored against the Italians—

Sinking of the destroyer Zeffiro, 1073 tons; a hit on an unidentified warship in an engagement which killed 29 of the crew and injured 69; loss of a submarine and four Italian planes, one of which was forced down on Greek territory and three which failed to return to their base.

In London the British admiralty pictured the result of a swift rout of the Italian navy and announced that Admiral Sir Andrew Cunningham, commander-in-chief of the British Mediterranean fleet, had signaled "that there were no casualties among the British ships engaged yesterday."

CLAIM SEA SUPREMACY

The admiralty communique said that "in the absence of information to the contrary, it must be assumed that the Italian naval forces, at least one heavy unit of which suffered damage, have gained the shelter of their shore defenses."

The outcome, according to the British claim, further clinched British supremacy in a sea which provides lifeline contacts for two belligerent empires—British and Italian. The full British strength in battle had been unleashed by Italian cancellation of the French navy as potential a factor in Italy's (and Germany's) power.

Each side declared last night that its forces were inpursuit of the enemy. The earlier actions of the title, a clash of the Italian air arm with British forces in the air and on the sea, were fought Monday at the eastern Mediterranean.

AIR POWER TESTED

It was not until Tuesday that the rival naval forces made battle contact.

Engagements centered in the eastern Mediterranean, near the

60 Nazi Planes Britain's Prey

LONDON, July 10 (AP)—Sixty planes, including 10 fighters, have been shot down during attacks on Britain since June 18, it was claimed officially today.

Germany was said to have lost about 130 planes in raids on Britain since the start of the war.

SEIZED DESTROYERS SAFE OFF SWEDEN

STOCKHOLM, July 10 (AP)—Four Swedish destroyers, purchased from Italy, entered Swedish waters this morning, a communique said, after being seized and damaged by a strong British naval detachment, released, and subsequently attacked by British warplanes.

The communique said the destroyers, not equipped for combat, were seized June 20 off the Faroe islands by a "strong British naval detachment" and taken to a British port.

Their release was effected after a Swedish protest. Britain agreed to pay for damages which involved the seaworthiness of the vessels, it was announced.

Thereafter, on July 8, four bombs were dropped as the ships proceeded off the Norwegian coast, but no hits were made, the communique reported.

The British government expressed regrets, saying the action was a mistake.

The communique said German authorities "in many ways" facilitated the homeward voyage of the destroyers by advising them of mine areas.

DUCHESS OF WINDSOR

BRENDA FRAZIER

America's Two Foremost Glamour Girls to Share Nassau Spotlight

WALLY TO SHARE BAHAMA SPOT WITH BRENDA FRAZIER

NEW YORK, June 10 (INS)—The social—with a capital "S"—revolution is about to hit Nassau. The road back for the Duke and Duchess of Windsor begins a longnette's throw from Florida's Gold Coast in a rich island resort run by the British and over-run by Americans.

So it's a foregone conclusion that Anglo-American society with winter roots in the Bahama Islands must soon sit down to a dish of crow, tastily seasoned with its own words. King George VI has demonstrated by Windsor's appointment as Governor General of the Bahamas that the Duke and Duchess may be exiles but not outcasts from the royal family.

"You don't cut your Governor dead, y'know," one of the members of Nassau's British colony, now in New York, explained haughtily when informed that the Duke and Duchess were slated to move into government house soon.

"Nor his wife, either," he added stiffly. "After all, they will represent the Crown, and one does not snub the Crown."

PLAYGROUND CHIEF

So for the first time since their marriage, the Duke and the former Wallis Warfield Simpson of Baltimore will be certain of a civil welcome from the best element in a British colony. It seems only fair that an island paradise owned by the British but supported by American tourist trade should be governed by the most famous Anglo-American alliance in history.

H. R. H., the Duke, will discover that his new job is more or less that of royal playground superintendent to one of the gayest, dizziest and most beautiful winter resorts in the world. It is the favorite play place of innumerable rich Americans and even more innumerable average Americans who flock there in cruise ships to spend one to three days on a glorious binge on its glorious beaches.

The former British monarch who once drew something in the neighborhood of a million dollars for ruling 600,000,000 persons and a fourth of the world now will receive $12,000 annually. For that comparatively small stipend he'll be recognized as "Your Excellency" by the 12,000 white persons and 55,000 colored inhabitants of the 29 islands in the Bahama group.

SOCIAL LEADER

By and large, most of the island wealth is traceable to the United States. The Bahamas wax fat on the tourist trade. In the days of prohibition most of the first families now respectively ensconced behind beaucoup dough made it in rum-running. The Bahamas were one of America's chief sources of liquid supply during the great drought.

The Duchess of Windsor will automatically not only become the First Lady of Nassau but the social leader of the islands. The winter colony has long looked to Governa-

CELEBRATE 2D ANNIVERSARY

SECOND ANNIVERSARY—Joined by Barbara Anna just about two months ago, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Boutall today were celebrating the second anniversary of their May-and-December marriage. "We have had a very happy year," the 18-year-old wife said. He's 65.

GAS KILLS 6 CHILDREN, MOTHER NEAR DEATH

NEW YORK, July 10 (INS)—Six children perished as they slept today because their apparently deranged mother sought "the only way out" for her offspring and herself. Near death was the mother, Mrs. Louise Nicosia, 43, former inmate of a state mental institution. The mother and children were found in their gas-filled Bronx apartment. From a range in the kitchen poured a steady flow of fumes. Every jet on the range had been turned wide open.

The children who died were Carmelia, 12; Angelia, 11; Joseph, 8; Anna, 7; Dominick, 5, and 4-year-old Frances Nicosia.

A note written by Mrs. Nicosia, phrased in rambling terms, told of "being refused at the hospital," and concluded:

"This is the only way out."

Victim's Cane Seen Clue in Island Death

OAK BLUFFS, July 10—The drama of a man of culture fighting to extricate himself from the web of sex murder charges heightened today with three major developments.

At Edgartown jail, police placed a night and day guard over the cell of R. Huntington Rice, 54, elocution teacher, who has been formally charged with beating to death Mrs. Clara M. Smith, 70, Christian Science reader and one of his students, of Dorchester.

From Rice's brother, Rev. Bernard L. Rice of Boston, came the announcement that the family had engaged Atty. Frank G. Volpe, of Arlington, former assistant district attorney of Middlesex County, a veteran of criminal cases.

Although Dist. Atty. William C. Crossley maintained a tight-lipped silence on the murder probe, it also was learned police now believe the elderly Dorchester widow may have been beaten to death with her own cane as she slept in a dormitory at the Rice School of the Spoken Word here.

SECRET SESSION

Another development hinted was the calling of a special grand jury to hear in secret session the state's murder case against the tall, well-groomed suspect who steadfastly maintains his innocence.

Officials gave no explanation for precautions taken to guard Rice. Besides special guards, a light was erected outside the accused man's cell and will be kept burning indefinitely, police said.

The cane angle developed after police searched in vain for a heavy hickory cane which Mrs. Smith was reported to have taken with her when she enrolled at the school several weeks ago for voice training.

"HIGHLY NERVOUS"

William Ray, barber shop owner, told officials he had seen her leaning on the cane near the postoffice on the night before her body was found on a bloodstained bed. Until today police could only vaguely theorize as to what sort of weapon had been used.

After visiting his brother, Rev. Mr. Rice, who is university pastor of the Westminster Foundation, Presbyterian student center on Bay State rd., Boston, told reporters:

"My brother is highly nervous by nature and has been all his life. I think his manner led authorities to lay their charges against him. I have never known a man of higher ideals than my brother."

Unless the calling of a special grand jury upsets plans, Rice faces a hearing on July 18 at which time the state is required to present sufficient evidence to convince the court there is probable cause for holding Rice for the grand jury.

Woman Is Held As Tipsy Driver

Accused of driving a car which knocked down and severely injured a three-year-old South Boston child, Mrs. Annie A. Rush, 58, of Wachuset ave., Forest Hills, was arrested today on charges of driving under the influence of liquor, driving to endanger and leaving the scene of an accident.

She pleaded not guilty in South Boston district court and was held in $500 for a hearing July 19.

Berlandi Defendant Lie Admission Told

Defendant Carmen Giordano admitted he lied in saying Alfred Berlandi was not with him in a handbag theft, it was testified today in municipal court at the trial of Giordano, Berlandi and two others on contempt charges.

The other defendants in the case are Angelo Berlandi of Mayor Tobin's secretarial staff and Police Lieut. Herold Walkins of headquarters.

Police Stenographer Richard Sullivan, who said he took statements from Giordano, allegedly influenced by Angelo Berlandi to "take the rap" in the handbag case for his brother, Alfred, testified that Giordano eventually admitted Alfred was with him.

Confronted with the two versions of the theft, said Sullivan, young Giordano admitted he had lied in saying he was alone.

GIORDANO ARRESTED

In the Giordano statement given to police and produced in court, he also said he was not arrested until Officer Joseph Lundy of North End had conferred with Angelo Berlandi.

This conference, Giordano said in the statement, was in the Berlandi home, to which he had been called, and Lundy and Angelo went into a bedroom and closed the door.

Officer Lundy testified yesterday that the door of the room was left open.

Sergt. Francis H. McGeever of North End station testified that after Giorando had been arrested the officer talked with Angelo Berlandi "about bringing Alfred to the station."

ATTORNEYS CLASH

Angelo, said the sergeant, nodded his head and went to a telephone, but was unsuccessful in trying to reach his brother.

Nor had the sergeant any better luck, he said, when he sent the police cruiser car three times to the Berlandi home.

Today's session, the third day of the case, was marked at the outset by a clash between Asst. Dist. Atty. Edward M. Sullivan and Defense Counsel John Hanigan and Arthur Bickford.

This was over introductions, by Sullivan, of a statement he took in the prosecutor's office from Lieut. Walkins last May.

Defense counsel objected that it was not a complete statement, with Sullivan retaliating that Walkins had made some statements with the adjuration that "this if off the record."

Sullivan, irate, finally withdrew his offer of the statement.

When Giordano, first of the four defendants to testify, was called to the stand, Chief Justice Putnam called a recess.

2 New Trans-Ocean Phone Services Open

New York, July 10 (INS)—Two new transoceanic radio-telephone circuits will be opened today between New York and Berlin and New York and Berne, Switzerland, a spokesman for the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., announced.

Previously telephone calls to those foreign cities were routed through London or Rome.

Economy Plan Urged to Cut Hub Tax Rate

Condemning Boston's soaring 1940 tax rate of $40.60, the Municipal Research Bureau today suggested a four-point economy program.

1—Return to the city's former no-hiring policy with elimination of further appointment such as the "recent unjustified expansion of police personnel."

2—Departmental reorganization, as recommended by the Bureau and by Technology experts.

3—Reduction of departmental costs by modernization of the city's budget procedure.

4—Specific savings, amounting to $550,000 by cutting bridge drawtender crews—transferring homeless children to state care and raising Sumner Traffic Tunnel tolls.

Jobless Pay Claims Jump

A jump in the number of initial claims filed for jobless insurance, as well as an increase in the money paid out, for the week ending July 3, was reported today by the Massachusetts Division of Unemployment Compensation.

The bureau reported 18,540 new claims during that week, as compared with 16,742 in the preceding week and 8089 for the corresponding week of 1939, while the benefits paid for the week amounted to $1,121,297, as compared with $1,061,138 the preceding week, and $255,538 for the corresponding week a year ago.

King Tut Reburied In His 3 Coffins

MINNEAPOLIS, July 10 (AP)—King Tut-Ankh-Amen, the boy pharoah of Egypt whose mummy was disinterred in 1922 from the tomb where it had lain for thousands of years to give the world many priceless archeological finds, has gone back to his rest.

Mrs. George Gibson, who returned here yesterday after 15 months in Egypt, reported the Egyptian government has reburied King Tut in his three coffins, the innermost of which is pure gold, to enshield him from the perils of modern warfare.

Portland Lawyer Falls Dead Here

12 Movie Animals Die In California Blaze

VENTURA, Cal., July 10 (AP)—Twelve circus animals, movie veterans all—seven tigers, three camels and the expertly-trained elephants "Sally" and "Queenie"—died in a spectacular fire last night.

The flames roared through an elephant barn, camel barn, hayshed and machine shop at Louis Goebel's lion farm at Thousand Oaks.

Sally and Queenie, driven mad by the flames, stampeded, and broke the main water supply line. The blaze grew, unchecked, until the break was mended.

Sally burned to death. Queenie, badly scorched, had to be shot. Both elephants were to have been used at Paramount studio today for scenes with Dorothy Lamour in "Moon Over Burma." They were from the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus.

"The camels were killed when the roof caved in on them," said Goebel. "The most pitiful sight of all was the tigers running back and forth in their cages, their coats on fire. We managed to get close enough, in spite of the heat, to shoot two of them, but we didn't have a chance to put the others out of their misery."

Five lions locked in rolling cages were removed from the burning buildings. Among them was Leo, of M-G-M fame.

Grand Central Train Crash Injures 40

NEW YORK, July 10 (AP)—Between 40 and 50 of the 900 passengers aboard a 14-car New York Central commuters' train from suburban Westchester County were injured today when the train crashed into the bumping block at the end of a track in Grand Central terminal.

The impact knocked standing passengers off their feet, broke windows and some of the doors in the forward cars, plunged the train temporarily in darkness and caused general confusion.

Most of the injuries consisted of shock and cuts from flying glass, a half dozen persons were taken to hospitals after treatment in the terminal's emergency hospital.

WARM WEATHER DRIVES THOUSANDS TO RESORTS

New Englanders flocked to beach resorts and sought relaxation in the country again today as the warm summer sun beamed on the area.

Reports from Revere and Nantasket beaches along the North and South Shores indicated the series of warm days had made bathing conditions ideal. Higher water temperatures and moderate breezes were welcomed by thousands.

Because of the peculiar contrasts of weather existing in New England, officials of the Bosto Weather Bureau announced plans for four forecasts early this fall, with reports to be made up in Boston instead of Washington.

On the 19th floor of the Federal Building and at East Boston Airport, experts are installing equipment provided by the $50,000 appropriation recently approved by Congress for a separate weather station in Boston.

16 EMPLOYES

Approximately 16 new employes will be engaged, it was announced although Mark T. Nesmith, associate meteorologist, said finding additional forecasters will be a difficult matter due to the many varying elements on which New England forecasts are based.

"We have four kinds of terrain here in New England—mountains, plains, valleys and seacoast—all of which require particular attention in making forecasts," he said.

"No single person in Washington could give sufficient attention to forecasts for this area—it was more than one man could handle. The new setup will make more accurate and dependable forecasts possible."

NEW HIGH MARK

Several thrilling rescues from drowning took place at crowded shore resorts yesterday as the mercury soared to 91 degrees, a new high mark for the season.

At North Berwick, Me., Harvey Wentworth, 60, was killed by a lightning bolt while he was riding atop a load of hay. The bolt also killed his two horses.

Edward J. Conley, 70, of Prospect ave., Revere, was found dead in a vacant lot off Foster st., in that city.

Runnells Better, To Go on Trial

AUGUSTA, Me., July 10— Steady improvement in the condition of resigned State Controller William A. Runnells probably will mean he will face trial here in October, it was declared by authorities today.

Runnells, who was gravely wounded last April by two bullets he said were accidentally self-inflicted, now is sitting up daily and is able to walk with aid. A police guard is maintained over the 45-year-old bachelor.

Key man in the state's financial set-up since 1932, he is charged in indictments with larceny of $71,000 in state funds.

Bandit Killed, Hub Pal Held

NEW HAVEN, Ct., July 10 (AP)—George Smith, 22, of New Haven, murmuring, "You can't win," died today of an abdominal wound caused by a bullet fired from a patrolman's pistol, and a companion fretted in jail as police sought two other bandits who fled after a wild exchange of shots following a hold-up at a Winchester ave. grocery store.

Detective Joseph Monahan said Thomas Payne of New Haven and Boston, a companion of Smith, was captured at the scene.

The four bandits were reported by Owner Edward M. Sartino to have entered his store about midnight as he was counting the day's receipts and to have scooped up an undetermined amount of money.

Lloyd George's Kin Gets Pacifist Job

LONDON, July 10 (AP)—W. George, 27-year-old nephew of Britain's World War premier, David Lloyd George, applied today at Carnarvon, Wales, as a conscientious objector to army service.

He was assigned to farm work unless his services on other tasks are accepted by the Society of Friends (Quakers).

Cupid Remembered As 3 Get Legacies

Three grandchildren of the late William W. Jenks, wealthy retired Boston paper manufacturer, had each today a neat nest-egg, to be theirs when they reach 21—or before 21 if they marry early.

The Jenks will, filed in Salem for probate, leaves $5000 each to Billy Jenks, 10, and Russell Jenks, 8, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Jenks of Longfellow rd., Melrose, and $5000 to Averill Jenks, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger W. Jenks of Arlington.

Jenks, who had resided in Lynn bequeathed $50,000 each to his sons, Robert C. Jenks of Melrose, and Roger W. Jenks of Arlington; also left $5000 each to their wives.

Mrs. Rachel G. Neal, a widow, of Sachem at., Lynn, was awarded $15,000 while $6000 went to her relatives.

The sum of $2000 was left to nine friends; $1000 to the First Universalist parish, Lynn, and $2500 to the Springfield Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children.

Steel Shares Edge Forward

NEW YORK, July 10 (AP)—Steel shares tried to climb out of the stock market rut today and made fractional gains while most groups continued to drift.

Coppers and oils pointed higher with the steels. Dealings were too small to make much impression on prices.

A little higher were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Anaconda, American Can, Standard Oil of New Jersey.

Losers included American Telephone, which dropped more than a point on the initial sales; General Electric, Douglas Aircraft and Chrysler.

HOVEY'S Electric Refrigerator Sale!

Save $24.95 ON THIS GENUINE

6 cu. ft. CROSLEY SHELVADOR

BRAND NEW 1940 MODEL

The SHELVADOR—see illustration at left— gives you: 1. More Shelf Space . . . upwards of 25% more than in ordinary construction; 2. Quicker Accessibility for items most frequently needed — fruit, eggs, small packages; 3. Clutter-Free Convenience, small items stored separately from large articles, saving time, trouble and waste, leaving main shelves free for bulky foods. But remember — Only Crosley Can Give You The Shelvador.

Caution: Do not confuse this refrigerator with low-priced "stripped" models. In addition to the Shelvador, it gives you— 1. 18-point temperature control; 2. Double-deep tray for frozen desserts; 3. Non-tarnish, tip-proof shelves; 4. Cold-storage dish for storage of extra cubes; 5. Heavily-insulated, sealed, steel cabinet; 6. Porcelain-lined food compartment, acid-resistant floor; 7. Electrosaver, hermetically-sealed, oiled for life; 8. Exterior finish, beautiful, easy-to-clean Dulux.

HOW THE SHELVADOR MAKES YOUR CROSLEY FAR MORE USABLE

HERE — in an ORDINARY REFRIGERATOR — where they use up space needed for taller, bulkier items

HOVEY'S ELECTRIC APPLIANCES—FOURTH FLOOR

NARROW GAUGE FEES FIXED

Counsel fees and expenses totalling $46,915.72 were approved by a federal court master today in connection with reorganization of the bankrupt and now discontinued Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn (Narrow Gauge) railway.

The master, Referee in Bankruptcy Arthur Black, recommended payment of fees of $18,750 and expenses of $1328.48 to the Boston law firm of Goodwin, Proctor and Hoare, attorneys for the railway.

He also recommended payment of fees of $6000 to Atty. Rutherford E. Smith, counsel for the First Mortgage committee; $2750 to Atty. David Abercrombie, counsel for the general mortgage committee, and $1000 to Atty. Henry Wise, counsel for the railway employes.

The recommended payments must obtain the approval of the court.

Black's report said he would have approved fees and expenses asked by the railway trustees, the bond holders and the debtors' committee, except that a general scaling down of costs had been asked by the bond holders.

He made no recommendation for payments to Charles M. Green, bond holder who filed a minority petition, or to Atty Herbert S. Avery, counsel for the Winthrop town committee.

Tague Leaves Clerks Hot Under Collar

Clerks at the Boston postoffice were hoping for a wind—even an ill wind—today after Postmaster Peter F. Tague ordered that despite hot days they must wear pearl gray uniform coats and keep their neckties tied while serving the public.

In other years, the clerks have discarded their coats and opened their collars when the torrid summer breezes arrived.

Heart Attack Kills Ex-5 and 10 Head

NEW YORK, July 10 (AP)—Hubert T. Parson, 68, president of the F. W. Woolworth Co., from 1919 until his retirement in 1932, is dead of a heart attack at his home.

A native of Toronto, Parson entered the employ of the five-and-ten chain as an accountant at the age of 20 and worked his way to the top.

Woman Editor Of Journal Dead

A native of Omaha, Neb., she was the widow of the Rev. John Churchwood Wilson, pastor of Congregational churches in Stonington and Meriden, Ct.

F. D. Renomination Now Seen Assured

CHICAGO, July 10 (INS)—"Detailed arrangements for the renomination of President Roosevelt next Thursday" at the Democratic National Convention were completed in Washington yesterday in a conference between the President and Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago, the Chicago Herald-American stated today in a copyrighted story.

The Herald-American story added:

"He (Mayor Kelly) conferred with the President in the White House yesterday, and together they discussed the strategy to be invoked during the party's national convention, which opens in the Chicago Stadium Monday.

NOMINATION THURSDAY SEEN

"According to authoritative sources, the plan contemplates having the President come here immediately after his renomination, and, like his action eight years ago, to address the convention.

"The program also contemplates having Mr. Roosevelt renominated for a third term by acclamation. This would eliminate the need for a nominating speech . . . and paves the way for the President himself to tell the people why he will make the race.

"Unless a sudden change is made in arrangements, the plan calls for the President being renominated early Thursday afternoon. He would address the convention immediately afterward."

F. D. Expected To Accept Draft

WASHINGTON, July 10 (INS)—"I have done my share!"

In this vein President Roosevelt has ben replying to close personal adn political friends who tell him that he must be a candidate for a third term, it was learned today.

Despite this attitude of the President, these same friends are confident that Mr. Roosevelt will accept a "draft" by the Democratic convention opening in Chicago next Monday.

Mr. Roosevelt, it was disclosed authoritatively, frequently raises the third term issue when he is told that he must lead the party in the national election battle.

THIRD TERM NO OBSTACLE

In every instance he has been told that investigation made by Democratic politicians shows that the third term issue would not be a serious obstacle to his re-election.

The President has informed political cronies that even if he were not nominated, he would seek to aid a new President in considering international problems, which are uppermost in his mind.

One of the most frequent arguments pressed upon the President by third term boosters is that if he failed to become a candidate, and a conservative Democrat or Republican were elected, the financial, labor and agricultural policies evolved by the New Deal would be greatly weakened.

"That must not happen," friends of the President have quoted him as replying.

The new Republican National Committee, Rep. Joseph Martin, said yesterday that all GOP campaign plans are based upon the idea that Mr. Roosevelt will be nominated to oppose Wendell Willkie.

Disagreeing with Martin's prediction, one Republican member of the House offers to bet colleagues $100 each that Mr. Roosevelt will not be the Democratic nominee. He has had no takers as yet.

Oklahoma Solons Win Renomination

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 10 (AP)—Oklahoma's nine congressmen who stuck to their jobs in Washington and let campaigning back home take care of itself, apparently were rewarded today with renomination by the state's Democrats.

Fested runner of all was Will Rogers, congressman-at-large. He trampled the hopes of former Gov. William H. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray and 15 other opponents.

MUM'S THE WORD

IT'S A SECRET—Arriving in Chicago for preliminary activities in preparation for the Democratic national convention. Postmaster General James A. Farley answers reporters' questions on President Roosevelt's third term intentions with a gesture of silence. Conclave opens next week.

Governor May Call Special Session

Gov. Saltonstall will call a special session of the legislature to provide funds for organization of a State guard in event the national guard is called for training duty outside Massachusetts.

This he revealed in commenting on reports from Washington that the Federal government may have use for the national guard outside this state.

70-Year-Old Woman Amnesia Victim

A 70-year-old woman dressed in black clothing of expensive make, was found wandering, apparently an amnesia victim, at Massachusetts ave. and Boylston st., Back Bay, today.

Police said she recalled having lived in Roxbury and Brookline, but was uncertain of her name or the whereabouts of relatives. She was given shelter at the Chardon Street Home.

Wheeler Drops Out Of Presidential Race

WASHINGTON, July 10 (AP)—Sen. Wheeler (D.) of Montana, removed himself today from the list of presidential aspirants who expect their names to go before the Democratic National Convention regardless of President Roosevelt's plans.

Asserting that he would not be a party to a "Stop-Roosevelt" movement, Wheeler told reporters that continued silence by the President would have the effect of quashing all other candidates.

"Of course, Mr. Roosevelt can have the nomination—he has the votes to get it on the first ballot if he wants it, and there is no question about that," Wheeler declared.

"If he doesn't make any announcement, it will be rather embarrassing to everybody else as to whether or not to have his name presented."

Wheeler's position appeared to leave Vice-President Garner as the only other aspirant whose friends still insisted that his name would be placed in nomination.

There was considerable doubt as to the stand likely to be taken by Postmaster-General Farley, since some members of the Massachusetts delegation nominally pledged to him have publicly advocated that the President run for a third term.

While the Democratic situation remained uncertain, Republicans went quickly ahead with their plans, scheduling a meeting tomorrow of the campaign advisory group picked up by Wendell L. Willkie before he left yesterday for a Colorado vacation.

Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, one of Willkie's chief advisors, was expected to arrive late today for conferences with the group, which also includes Russell Davenport, former managing editor of Fortune Magazine, and Oren Root, Jr., New York lawyer, who were among the original Willkie boosters.

Rep. Joseph Martin (R.) of Massachusetts, new National Republican Chairman, said he expected to confer with Stassen and other members of the group tonight.

Martin predicted in a press conference yesterday that President Roosevelt would be Willkie's opponent. He said the President was "so available I hadn't thought of anyone else as a candidate." . . .

WILLKIE SCORNFUL OF PROBE

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., July 10 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie said today a projected Senate committee investigation of his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination was evidence that "the New Deal must indeed be nervous about the outcome of the election."

Willkie arrived here last night for a three-week vacation. He declared he would "just loaf" during the first week, would see a number of Republican leaders in the second week and would devote the third to preparation of his formal address accepting the nomination.

The New York nominee was informed during his plane trip westward that Chairman Gillette (D.) of Iowa of the Senate campaign investigating committee wanted to inquire into "the alleged high pressure telegraphic campaign in behalf of Wendell Willkie."

Gillette, talking with reporters in Washington, said he had received numerous complaints that delegates to the Republican national convention were deluged with telegrams urging support of Willkie. Gillette added that he knew of no law to prevent that type of campaign.

MARTIN CHAIRMAN

Willkie said in response to questions that there had been no "telegraphic campaign" and added:

"Gillette is a Democrat and is trying to help the Democrats win. As far as I am concerned they can investigate us forever. We do not want to conduct a campaign on such trivialities.

"A party which has to resort to such tactics as the New Deal is presently doing must indeed be nervous about the outcome of the election."

Willkie chatted with reporters aboard his chartered plane last night after announcing in Washington that Rep. Joseph W. Martin, the minority leader, would be the new Republican national chairman.

"The organization is just as I wanted it," Willkie said, "and I have just the people I want."

HAMILTON KEPT

John Hamilton, former Republican national chairman, was kept on at his $25,000 annual compensation in the position of executive director, a position subordinate to Martin's.

A large crowd chanting "we want Willkie" lined the fences at the municipal airport when the nominee and his wife arrived last night.

Willkie stopped briefly in Chicago and Omaha during his trip westward, shaking hands with airport spectators and writing numerous autographs. Mrs. Willkie appeared with her husband at each stop. Well-wishers gave her flowers and candy at Omaha.

VACATIONING—After being greeted on arrival by a crowd's chant of "we want Willkie," Mr. and Mrs. Wendell L. Willkie today were enjoying well deserved rest at Colorado Springs, where they'll vacation for three weeks.

DEFENSE POWER SOUGHT

ALBANY, N. Y., July 10 (INS)—Gov. Herbert H. Lehman has urged New York's industrial leaders to reveal their full potential power to furnish munitions and Allied supplies in connection with national defense program.

3d Term Puzzle Faces Bay State Delegates

Back from Washington after a conference with President Roosevelt, Chairman William H. Burke of the Democratic state committee ran into troubles over the third term question.

Reports were that efforts would be made to have the Massachusetts delegates vote as a unit at the national convention in Chicago Monday.

With imposition of the unit rule, it was declared, the delegation could be voted unanimously for the renomination of President Roosevelt.

But sharp opposition to the reported plan came from several delegates, among them Patrick A. Doyle of Springfield.

"I have no choice in the matter," he declared, "because I was elected from a district pledged to vote for the nomination of Past Master-General James A. Farley."

He regarded that pledge as a sacred obligation, Doyle added.

Further complicating the situation, according to reports, was the belief that those favoring the unit rule cannot guarantee their fellow delegates that the President would accept the nomination if it were given him.

BRITAIN SEES NEW PEACE BID

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, July 10—Feverish precautions against possible German invasion went forward at top speed today, but a perceptible feeling grew in some quarters that Germany's promised blow against Britain may not fall as soon as was expected.

Certain circles, usually well informed, predicted some form of peace offensive, designed primarily to attempt to breach British public confidence might come as a prelude to total hostilities.

It was pointed out that the German radio has ceased its threats of frightfulness against Britain and now is trying to direct the thoughts of its English audience toward peace by hinting the British have a chance of escaping invasion and its terrors if they oust Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

These circles in London said it would not surprise them if Berlin even went so far as to send a peace ultimatum to Britain with dismissal of Churchill as the cardinal demand, accompanied by substitution of a more pro-German form of government.

Obviously said British authorities, any such Nazi ultimatum would be "rejected out of hand."

Accompanying these reports was a suggestion that the latest reconnaissance flights by the British have revealed no further major developments in the form of German troop and transport concentrations. This, however, was not confirmed officially.

It also was suggested that the Germans still have "several loose ends to gather in" before launching a blitzkrieg in Britain's direction, and that they may attempt to settle Mediterranean and eastern European problems first.

Eire Prepares For Great Battle

DUBLIN, July 10 (INS) — Eire has announced that its coastal waters would be mined as a defense against possible invasion by Germany and Italy to provide a base for attack upon England.

This announcement climaxed a day devoted to a nationwide rehearsal of air raid precautions. Eire troops, police and civilian organizations participated in the drill which included mock air raid alarms.

Government officials used the mass rehearsals to warn the public of new dangers. Sean Lemass, Eire Minister of Supply, said the next great battle of the European war may be fought upon Eire's soil.

"The dangers we foresee are not those of next year, or the year after," he told a gathering. "They are of this next week."

Windsors Turn Social Spotlight on Nassau

ment House for its most coveted invitations. With the acquisition of the Duchess, Nassau will have acquired America's two foremost glamour girls: The former Wallis Simpson and Brenda Frazier.

Little Miss Frazier spends the winters in Nassau annually with her grandma, Lady Jane Williams Taylor of Montreal, long the uncrowned social queen of the resort.

The Windsors should find no difficulty in transposing their existence from the Riviera to Nassau, except in summer when—the winter resorters tell you—"only the natives can stand it." By "it," they mean the heat and the boredom, but the Governor General is expected to stand both. The winter colony can de rt, but not he!

Heretofore it has always been the practice of the Bahamian governor to visit Florida at least once during the winter.

SWOON OF JOY

He and his entourage have made a habit of coming to Miami for the running of the Bahama Handicap at Hialeah race track in mid-February. At least, that's the excuse. Then, invariably, he and his party go on to Palm Beach for a gay round of entertaining by all the best people. If the Duke and Duchess should follow this custom, Miami and Palm Beach would swoon of joy.

It's a hunch that the Duchess Windsor will take one good look at Government House, on its hill in the center of town, and then cable that international interior decorator, Lady Mendl, the former Elsie De Wolfe, for help. Government House is anything but imposing inside.

It is full of old rattan furniture, limp chintz and bathrooms that can only be described as "quaint." It bears no resemblance to the quiet elegance and chic of the Windsor residence on Suchet Blvd., Paris.

Bahamas Fete Windsor Naming With Free Drinks

NASSAU, Bahamas, July 10 (INS)—Jubilant celebrations—including free drinks in bars—formed the response of the Bahamas today to appointment of the Duke of Windsor, former King Edward VIII, as new governor general of the Bahama Islands.

Popularity of the Duke of Windsor in the United States and the fact that his American-born wife, the former Wallis Warfield of Baltimore, will accompany him to Nassau were expected here to cement British-American relations still further.

London Pleased At Duke's Job

LONDON, July 10 (AP)—The British press and public exhibited satisfaction today at the appointment of the Duke of Windsor as governor and commander-in-chief of the Bahamas.

The news apparently appealed to the romantic side of most Britishers, who saw their former king in the role of goodwill ambassador to the new world.

Newspapers published lengthy descriptions, accompanied by maps, of the islands off the Florida coast where the Duke and his American-born duchess, the former Wallis Warfield Simpson, will reside.

Britain May Not Send War Children to U.S.

LONDON, July 10 (AP)—The British government may abandon plans to send children to the Dominions and the United States, the Evening News reported today.

"Some of the government's advisers in opposing the plan have reported it would be difficult to provide adequate convoys for ships carrying the children across the Atlantic," the newspaper said. "A government statement can be expected shortly."

BATTLE CONTINUES IN MEDITERRANEAN

Greek island of Crete; in the central Mediterranean or Ionian Sea off the instep of the Italian boot, and in the western Mediterranean south of the Balearic islands and east of Gibraltar.

The last seems to have been purely a test of British sea power versus Italian air power. Three Italian planes failed to return from this clash, but yesterday's day-long bombing of the British naval formation which had left Gibraltar gave "evidence of effective results," as the Italian high command expressed it.

The Italians declared that the main British naval force was turned back from its apparent objective of raiding the central Mediterranean and thus the Italians claimed victory.

CLAIM BATTLESHIP SUNK

The Italians' official communique related that the main British force, itself divided into three groups, was sighted on Monday by Italian air scouts, moving westward between the islands of Crete and the North African coast.

Throughout Monday Italian planes attacked the British fleet.

"Some of the vessels were hit and seriously damaged, with fires visible aboard," said the Italian communique.

Steadily the arena of the battle moved westward.

"Although reduced, the English naval formation held to its route," said the high command, "leading to the supposition that its objective was to raid the central Mediterranean and to attack by sea and air some important coast position of ours."

Hence, Italy followed up her waves of planes with "strong groups of our fleet" to "head off the attempt."

Night brought some hours of respite and when Tuesday dawned the British force was moving into the Ionion sea.

BRITISH VERSION

It was in that sea that units of the Italian and British fleets made contact "while air forces joined the action from the sky."

By the Italian version, the engagement was shortlived—a period of "intensive firing" and then "the enemy gave up its objective and moved off toward the southeast."

The British version, which produced exultant streamer headlines in the press, was that Admiral Cunningham, had "made contact" east of Malta with an Italian force consisting of two of Italy's six battleships, a number of 8-inch and 6-inch gun cruisers and some destroyers; that the Italians "almost immediately" had "retired behind a smokescreen," but only after a British capital ship had scored a long-range hit on one of the Italian battleships; and that the British were in pursuit last night.

Vanishing American

. . . Gone is the picturesque schooner of yester year as a real factor in Boston's great fishing industry.

And gone with it, the hazards and hardships of the fisherman's life at sea fighting fog and storm in open dories that all too frequently never returned to the mother ship. Today's big diesel trawlers bring in "trips" of hundreds of thousands of pounds of fish without a man leaving the ship.

In many lines of work, "the good old days" is a pleasant memory. But not for the deep sea fishermen who sail the 40-Fathom fleet. Well paid, well fed and well cared for, they favor this industry's progress.

France on Verge of Authoritarian Rule

GENEVA, Switzerland, July 10 (AP)—The parliament of the third French Republic, which grew out of France's defeat by the Prussians of Bismarck in 1870, stood ready to yield its powers formally today to a new totalitarian staff, born of France's defeat by the Germans of Adolf Hitler.

In a national assembly called for this afternoon at Vichy, France, only formal approval was needed to give the government of Premier [illegible] power to write a new constitution and create an authoritarian state.

Actual approval already was accomplished.

The measure, voted yesterday by the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate with only four voices raised against it, declared the new constitution "must guarantee the rights of labor, family and country."

The Petain government, in an outline to Parliament of its plans as published by Havas, French news agency, declared France "must understand and accept the necessity of a national revolution."

TRIUMVIRATE RULE

Petain is expected to emerge as a figurehead, with ruling powers vested in a triumvirate of Gen. Maxime Weygand, Vice-Premier Pierre Laval and former Labor Minister Adrien Marquet.

The Petain outline said France now is "integrated into the continental system of production and trade" and that it therefore will be necessary "to put an end to present economic disorder by a national organization of corporative institutions."

(The Italian government of Premier Mussolini is termed "corporative" by Fascists.)

The declaration concluded:

"Only one aristocracy will be recognized: That of intelligence; only one merit: Work.

"The government will direct the country toward its new destiny, that of imperishable France, in order to continue the sacred work of ages. So our land, instead of allowing itself to be crushed by trial, will again by its efforts and in its traditions find the pride of our race."

Senators and deputies did not wait for the new state to seek scapegoats for France's downfall. Groups composed principally of extreme rightist leaders met in committee rooms (the former baccarat rooms) in Vichy's Grand Casino last night and this morning to draft plans.

GAMELIN BLAMED

Conservative Sen Charles Reibel introduced yesterday a bill to provide machinery for finding and punishing "all those responsible for the origin of the war, for insufficience of means to conduct operations and for prolongation of hostilities at a moment when military leaders considered it impossible."

Political leaders expressed belief that former Generalissimo Maurice Gamelin—whose fate and whereabouts still are uncertain—would be one of the scapegoats, along with former Premier Daladier and members of his cabinet.

Like Gamelin, their whereabouts are not known publicly. They were reported to have left France June 16 on the steamer Massilia, which was turned back from North Africa and later reported missing.

French Leaders Meet in Secret

VICHY, France, July 10 (AP)—French senators and deputies met in a joint secret session at the Grand Casino today to discuss a bill giving Marshal Henri Petain full powers to "re-make" France.

A decision was made to provide for a stenographic report of the morning proceedings, which in reality was a secret meeting of the National Assembly.

Marshal Petain and Foreign Minister Paul Baudoin received United States Ambassador William C. Bullitt for a brief conference.

French newspapermen reported that Leon Blum, former Socialist premier, who variously had been reported a prisoner in Germany and a refugee in Great Britain, actually is in Vichy.

He was said to have been present in yesterday's Chamber session with other Socialists.

U.S.-JAP TENSION INCREASES

SHANGHAI, July 10 (INS)—Japanese sentiment against the United States mounted to a new peak today as Japanese military authorities granted permission to 80,000 to held a mass meeting in protest against alleged mistreatment of Japanese military police by United States Marines.

It was understood the Japanese were preparing to reject the statement of Col. Dewitt Peck, who denied that 16 Japanese policemen, arrested when they entered the International Settlement, had been brutally treated.

Informed the Japanese would refuse this explanation, marine authorities said they di dnot plan to continue the argument.

The Japanese army newspaper Tairiku answered American assertions that the incident could be settled locally by stating:

"This incident cannot be settled locally."

Fears were expressed that Japanese political strong-arm men known as "Ronins" would enter the International Settlement to carry out retaliatory measures.

Tokyo Sees Incident Near Settlement

TOKYO, July 10 (AP)—Yakichiro Suma, foreign office spokesman, said today he expected the Shanghai incident in which American Marines arrested 15 Japanese gendarmes would be settled between Japanese and American authorities in Shanghai.

Meanwhile, the Japanese government interpreted President Roosevelt's recent suggestion of "Monroe Doctrine" for Europe and Asia as agreeing in principle with Japan's "Asiatic Monroe Doctrine," Suma said.

Aluminum Ware To Build Planes

LONDON, July 10 (INS)—Newspapers throughout Britain today published an appeal by Minister of Aircraft Production Lord Beaverbrook asking residents to turn over aluminum ware to the government for use in manufacturing fighting planes.

Lord Beaverbrook explained that England's supply of bauxite, ore used in making aluminum, is short because of the capitulation of France, world's largest bauxite producer.

Secret Bund in U. S. Bared by Dies Probe

AUSTIN, Tex., July 10 (AP)—A spokesman for Rep. Martin Dies (D-Tex.) reported today the congressman's investigation of un-American activities has disclosed existence of a secret bund designed to promote "better relations between Germany and other countries."

Dies has made the investigation here a closed affair, but authoritive sources disclosed that witnesses charged a clandestine organization of German and American citizens has headquarters at Houston.

The spokesman said:

His name was Kyffauserbund.

Committee agents have been investigating the bund for several months.

The organization held rifle practice.

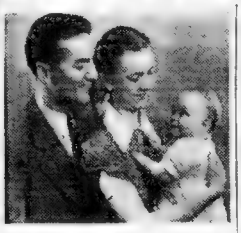
Testimony which disclosed existence of the Bund was based upon information gained by the committee recently from a membership book, printed in German and listing one qualification as the ability of members to do confidential work.

Dies, chairman of the House committee on un-American activities, said documentary evidence gathered since the hearing began Monday could not be revealed in its entirety because of possible reprisals to American governmental representatives abroad.

Dies planned to hear five witnesses today in closing out the first phase of the Texas hearings, Secretary Robert E. Stripling said. This phase had dealt with alleged attempts of German consular agents to influence editors of German language newspapers.

Of Course You Care



Of course you care what happens to your family when you are no longer here to take care of them. Perhaps you already have all the life insurance you need . . . but in too many cases the loss of the breadwinner means unnecessary hardship for his family.

MRS. CAROLINE W. SCHROEDER
$50,000 Suit Settled

Lander Love Suits Settled

Double trouble, in the form of dual breach of promise suits, was at an end today for Winworth Viles Lander of Newton, 72, retired inventor and mining engineer.

The second of two $50,000 breach of promise suits which the elderly Newton man, father of four grown children, was made the target in less than a month was settled out of court, it was learned.

The suit, one of the last of its kind remaining on the Suffolk Superior Court calendar since heart balm was banned by the Massachusetts legislature, was brought against Lander in December, 1937, by Mrs Mary Frances Avery, 45-year-old widow, formerly of Allston and Newton, now employed as a stenographer in New York.

It was also learned here that settlement out of court ended a similar $50,000 suit brought against Lander in Middlesex Superior Court in January, 1938, by Mrs. Caroline Wells Schroeder, 35, of University rd., Brookline, an attractive divorcee.

Last May in Suffolk probate court Lander won a legal victory over his second wife, Mrs. Grace Vivian Barbank Lander, 46, of John st., Reading, when Judge Frederick J. Dillon denied her petition for separate support, ruling that she was not living apart from him for justifiable cause.

Governor Silent On Pardon Move

After declaring disclosures of the special commission investigating pardons as shocking, Gov. Saltonstall today gave no indication as to whether or not he will sponsor any criminal action.

In commenting on alleged pardon and parole conditions in previous administrations, the governor said:

"The statements contained in the intermediate report of the unpaid commission are shocking. I am confident that the people of Massachusetts feel the same way as I do. The commission is to be commended for what it has brought to light, and I hope it will continue its good work.

"I certainly believe that the next session of the Legislature will correct the laws so that such abuses will be impossible in the future. Under the present administration these abuses have been stopped and everybody knows it. What action may be taken on this and the final report of the commission remains to be determined later."

Flying Ambulances Aid Nazi Wounded

WASHINGTON, July 10 (AP)—Nazi airplane ambulances have been employed effectively in rushing wounded soldiers back from the front, says a report by Dr. W. Tonnis, staff surgeon of the German air forces, reprinted by the Military Surgeon, official journal of the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States.

The German army medical corps is using its field hospitals only for emergency work, he wrote. The seriously wounded are put into flying ambulances for immediate transfer to back area hospitals.

Lone Girl Wins Aviation Berth

BRUNSWICK, Me., July 10—A lone girl pupil was enrolled in the Federal government's aviation school at Bowdoin College today after nosing out a score of men during qualifying tests.

She is Miss Ann Woods of Waldoboro, who with 10 other pupils will receive training gratis under the program of the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

Prof. B. W. Bartlett, director, said there were more than 50 applicants for 15 vacancies, four of which still remain to be filled.

Deep Sea Diver Finds Relaxation In the Clouds

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 10 (AP)—Not to intrude on the gag about the elevator operator—but E. P. Clayton, navy diver, certainly has his ups and downs.

Attached to the salvage ship Falcon, from whose decks assaults will be made this summer on the deep sea diving record, Clayton spends his free time in the sky.

He had his cub plane flown here from New London, Ct., and when he is not being lowered into the dark depths of the Atlantic off the Isles of Shoals he plans a few spins above the same sea.

5 Billion Defense Bill Expected Today

WASHINGTON, July 10 (AP)—As Congress awaited a huge new defense recommendation from President Roosevelt today, Senate confirmation of Henry L. Stimson as Secretary of War presaged similar approval of Col. Frank Knox for the navy post in the Cabinet.

Mr. Roosevelt said his latest message on preparedness needs would be sent to Capitol Hill during the day, and one high official forecast that it would ask about $4,800,000,000 in cash and authorizations for tanks, planes, guns and ships.

Favorable action on Knox appointment, meanwhile, was generally taken for granted. Administration leaders considered all uncertainty removed when the Senate voted 56-28 to confirm Stimson.

Party lines divided in that tally yesterday, with 45 Democrats, 10 Republicans and 1 Independent voting to confirm, and 14 Democrats, 12 Republicans, 1 Progressive and 1 Farmer-Laborite favoring rejection.

Completion of Senate action will end an interregnum of several weeks in the nation's key defense posts and put two Republicans in charge of an expanding army and navy program for which about $5,000,000,000 in cash already has been provided.

Stimson's confirmation came after two days of acrimonious debate which closed when Democratic Leader Barkley appealed for approval in the interests of national unity.

Many senators who opposed Stimson because of his views on international affairs said they would vote against the Knox appointment on the same grounds.

HEARST POST FOR HANES

Special to Boston Evening American

NEW YORK, July 10—John W. Hanes, former under-secretary of the Treasury, today was elected chairman of the finance committee and director of the Hearst Corp and American Newspapers, Inc.

Mr. Hanes' election to his new post was announced by Richard E. Berlin, president of the Hearst Corp., and Martin F. Huberth, president of American Newspapers, Inc.

Mr. Hanes resigned from the Treasury Department last December.

He is a director of the Bankers Trust Co., Johns-Manville Corp., Glenn L. Martin Co., United States Lines Co. and International Mercantile Marine Co.

Mr. Hanes brings to his new connection a wide experience in business and finance. He was a leading investment banker and broker before going to Washington in 1933 as a member of the Securities and Exchange Commission. He resigned from the SEC in 1938 to go with the Treasury Department, where he assumed general supervision over tax matters.

Before going to Washington, Mr. Hanes was senior partner in the stock exchange and banking firm of C. D. Barney & Co., now Smith, Barney & Co.

7 Colleges Enter Job Contest

Seven Massachusetts colleges have entered candidates for the 1940 Walter Mack Job Awards, industrial salary scholarships financed by Walter S. Mack, Jr., in celebration of the 35th year of the Pepsicola Co.'s business success, it was announced today.

Each job award is for a year at a salary of $1300. Beneficiaries can pick their industry and the section of the country where they wish to serve their educational apprenticeship.

The Massachusetts institutions which collaborated include Babson Institute, Boston University, Northeastern University, Radcliffe College, Smith College, Wheaton College and Williams College.

Mistress Mary's Garden

Rose Propagation

By T. W. LEGGETT

Mr. E. A. S., of Haverhill asks what process is followed in making cuttings of roses at this time of year? How long should the cuttings be?

ANSWER—It is a little early in the year to get best results from cuttings of roses because the young wood is too soft. If the attempt is made side shoots should be used and they should be from 6 to 8 inches in length. The two lowermost leaves are removed and the shoots are then inserted in moist sand and in a shaded cold frame.

Later in the year, late July and August, when the wood is a little harder, the shoots may be taken off, put in sandy soil, and covered with a glass preserving jar.

The principle is essentially the same for all types of roses. Climbers, however, are often propagated by layering or by hardwood cuttings. The latter are made in the fall of shoots of the current season cut into lengths of about eight inches.

These are tied in bundles of 20 to 50 and buried in moist sand in a box which is kept in a cold cellar (about 45 degrees) during the winter. This procedure causes the wound to heal by the formation of the callous tissue. The calloused cuttings are planted out of doors in the spring.

Court Restrains Italian Vets

A feud between rival veterans' organizations was disclosed today after the Federation of Italian World War Veterans in U. S. A. Inc., was granted a temporary restraining order in Suffolk Superior Court.

The complaint was against the Italian-American Veterans Association Inc., of Maverick st., East Boston, accused of unlawfully assuming possession of furniture, flags, books, records and other personal property.

The group wrongfully took possession of the premises following a secret meeting of dissenters, and formed a new organization, the complaint stated.

Sawmill Owner Faces Trial as Kidnaper

Almon Walter Corliss, sawmill owner at Contoocook, N. H., indicted by a Federal grand jury, will be tried under the Lindbergh law on a charge of kidnaping Mrs. Beatrice C. Larochelle of Winchendon and her 7-year-old daughter, Janet.

It was charged that Corliss sped off with mother and daughter after they had accepted a ride.

BURLINGTON, Vt., July 10—Aldermen here voted an increase of $250 in annual salary for Mayor John J. Burns, but the mayor today turned it down.

"I do not feel I can accept a raise in salary at this time when we are trying to live within our budget," Burns said.

Touch Tag But No One's It

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

The preliminary Democratic activities have reached that mysterious stage strangely resembling a game of touch tag in a haunted house.

Nobody in authority has any. The spokesman knows nothing and can verify it.

There are some secrets batting around that are as transparent as an illuminated bass drum. This is no time to be asking riddles, staging quizzes and telling secrets.

We object to the secrets. After living from hand to mouth for eight years we don't want to spend another eight years existing from mouth to ear.

So at Chicago we hope the Democrats play an open game; all the cards on the table and no kicking under it.

Seaman Confesses Killing Two Women in 'Blue Haze'

LOS ANGELES, July 10 (INS)—Murder of two women—one in New York and the other in San Francisco—while a "blue haze" clouded his mind was confessed today by an unemployed merchant seaman who identified himself as Harry Gordon, 37, harbor police reported.

No reason was given by the suspect for the slaying seven years ago of his wife in New York and the mutilation murder last June 24 in a cheap San Francisco hotel of Mrs Robert E. McCarthy, the mother of two children, other than he had been drinking and his mind was in a "blue haze," police said.

Gordon stated, according to homicide squad detectives, that in New York he was known as William Johnston. After choking his wife, Florence Johnston, to death in their New York apartment he fled to Brooklyn he was quoted as saying. There he met his present wife.

They later came to San Francisco where the McCarthy murder was committed.

COLLEGE INTEREST BOOMS DEMAND FOR WAR CHILDREN

With Harvard University faculty members and representatives of other local colleges organizing independent movements to take care of refugee children, whose parents are connected with European institutions of learning, interest in bringing them to safety here is reaching new heights.

Letters by the score are coming to the Editor of the American in every mail. One, two and more children are offered the sanctuary of New England homes by sympathetic correspondents.

It is a demonstration of kindliness calculated to impress the most war hardened. For such offers of custody for the duration of war or for permanent adoption are made without thought or hope of reward. Excerpts from some of the letters received follow.

ROXBURY—"In answer to the plea you have printed for homes for the war orphans I should like to offer to take one of them. We have a fairly good income and if I didn't have half as much as I have I am willing to share it with someone less fortunate. You may consider my home a home for one of the orphans."

DORCHESTER—"We read in the paper about adopting war orphans. We would like to get a brother and sister of Polish nationality, if possible as we ourselves are Polish. We are hoping that the government will make it easy to bring the war orphans here so that people may adopt them."

STRATFORD, N. H.—"I would like two little ones to adopt. A little boy and a little girl. My husband and I have been married for 17 years but have never had a child of our own. We can furnish references if you want them. We own our own home and my husband has steady work. Please let me know soon as I should like so much to get them."

JAMAICA PLAIN—"Will you try and get me a little orphan from France. My wife is French and I was a soldier in the last war. I make a good salary and can afford to give a little girl a good home with all the necessary love and comforts. I will appreciate your efforts in this matter."

LACONIA, N. H.—"I saw your plea in the paper for homes for these poor war orphans. My heart aches for them and we long for a son. We are more than willing to adopt a baby boy of one year or younger of French or English parents. We are of English descent and would like an English boy if we could get one."

WHITINSVILLE—"I just read that we are able to get a war orphan if we want one. We would like to have a little girl of about four or five. We are Dutch and have three boys. The oldest is 18 and the youngest is seven."

ENGLISH WAR REFUGEES
In Land of Liberty

ROCHESTER, N. H.—"I read your article on the tragic story of the pitiful, innocent little children suffering in war torn areas of Europe. I hope I am one of thousands of women to offer shelter and love to someone's little child. I would like a little girl, preferably a baby."

REVERE—"I have three sons, the youngest, 17. I would like very much to mother a little girl. I have a nice large home and could give some youngster a very nice home. My husband makes a good salary and shares my happiness over the idea of having a little girl."

COUPLE CHILDLESS

CRANSTON, R. I.—"I have been married six years and, much to my great disappointment, have had no children. I would dearly love to take a girl or boy for permanent adoption. The nationality isn't important. Neither is the age.

"Of course, I would prefer a very young baby because I would like the child to grow up and look upon my husband and me as real parents."

BOSTON—"My husband and I will share our home with three children for the duration of the war. Tell the British authorities to send us boys or girls.

"Yours is one of the worthiest undertakings ever begun in the United States, and I am pleased to see many individuals and organizations supporting it. I think all Americans who can possibly afford the expense should shelter these poor little ones who have to cross the ocean to escape death in the war that threatens daily to become more horrible."

FALL RIVER—"I would like to adopt a little girl—one who has no parents. You see, I would not want to give her up when I became attached to her. My husband and I can give her a good home and a fine education."

"We appreciate the worthy movement you began in New England."

BABY SISTER SOUGHT

ROXBURY—"I am the mother of two boys and would like to have a little French girl to adopt and raise as my daughter. It would make my sons very happy to have a baby sister. Every American mother should support you in this worthy movement."

Insanity Test for Murder Suspect

KITTERY, Me., July 10—Ralph W. Hawkes, counsel for John Fields, Jr., accused slayer, said he would ask a supreme court justice today to commit the 22-year-old Monhegan Islander to a state insane hospital for observation.

Fields was held without bail, pending grand jury action in October on a charge of murdering a 21-year-old shipmate, Stanley Wakem of Yarmouth, aboard the mackerel seiner Njorth at the Isles of Shoals Saturday night. Fields pleaded innocence.

Pay Taxes Willingly, Eddie Cantor Urges

OMAHA, July 10 (INS)—"From now on every man's business must become his sideline and his chief business must be the job of doing his share of helping the government's defense program," Eddie Cantor, star of the stage, screen and radio, told 2000 delegates to the sixth district convention of B'nai B'rith here.

"We have to pay taxes and more taxes, gladly and willingly, for the preservation of the America we love," Cantor told the delegates from Iowa, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Illinois and Michigan.

Earlier, Philip Klutznick, Omaha attorney, was elected and installed as president of the sixth district.

50 Flee Blaze In Worcester

WORCESTER, July 10—Fifty persons fled to the street in flimsy clothing as a $50,000 fire swept the Salisbury building and threatened the Lincoln sq. section of the city.

Flames raced through the Brockelman Bros. market and a tavern on the first floor and advanced upward through the four floors of the structure.

With front hallways blocked by flames, police and firemen led 12 families from upstairs apartments to safety through rear exits. Seven firemen were felled by the smoke.

15th Son Sets New Birth Mark

PETERSTOWN, W. Va., July 10 (AP)—Mrs. Grover Jones, 40-year-old wife of a school teacher, gave birth here to her fifteenth consecutive son. She has no daughters.

Reporting the birth, Dr. M. C. Newton, of Narrows, Va., expressed belief Mrs. Jones could claim a national record. He said he was informed by the U. S. Bureau of Vital Statistics at Washington that she set a new mark in that respect when her twelfth son was born.

All births have been single, and all the boys live here. The oldest is 22. The father is 49.

NANCY KELLY, JON HALL STAR IN RKO BOSTON FILM

A baby stowaway who scuttles the Navy war games provides comedy galore in "Sailor's Lady," 20th Century-Fox picture co-starring Nancy Kelly and Jon Hall, which comes to the RKO-Boston tomorrow.

Paired with this comedy is "Hot Steel," industrial drama with Richard Arlen, Peggy Moran and Andy Devine.

Sailor Hall and his sweetheart, Miss Kelly, almost have their love split in twain when a spinster neighbor says the juvenile society on them as unfit to retain custody of an adopted baby.

Their marriage date has been set and all the ship's gobs have been invited to a party the engaged couple are giving to celebrate their approaching nuptials. The spinster has been especially invited so that the two may prove to her their fitness as prospective parents.

But the gobs spoil that with their hilarious carryings-on, Nancy and Jon quarrel and part forever. But the baby innocently plays Cupid.

Appearing with the stars are Joan Davis, Dana Andrews, Mary Nash, Larry Crabbe, Katherine Aldridge, Wally Vernon and Baby Bruce Hampton.

"Hot Steel" has for its theme the rivalry of two men for control of a new steel process. Joe Besser, one-time vaudeville favorite and seen here recently, makes his film debut.

Susans Have Lucky Name

First 25 girls named Susan appearing at Loew's State box-office tomorrow will be the management's guests at the opening showing of "Susan and God," Metro's Joan Crawford-Fredric March co-starring production, and "Turnabout," United Artists' comedy.

An automobile license or registration or a social security card may be used for identification.

POPULAR PRICE THEATERS OFFER 3 TOP-NOTCH FILMS

Normandie's screen offerings are "Dr. Kildare's Strange Case," featuring "Doctors" Lionel Barrymore and Lew Ayres, and "Star Dust," with youthful Linda Darnell starred.

Tomorrow's daily double on Tremont screen will be "Swanee River," with Don Ameche and Al Jolson, and "His Girl Friday," the Cary Grant-Rosalind Russell comedy hit.

Bette Davis, coming to the Met in "ATAHT," may be seen at the Square for the next two days in "The Old Maid." The other feature will be "Men With Wings."

Hollywood Notes

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, July 10—Right on top of the hot news that Hedy Lamarr and Gene Markey had said adieu to marriage, M-G-M announces her next picture is "Come Live With Me." A little ironic, isn't it, right now? However, if all Hedy's male admirers take the invitation seriously she'll have to move into the Hollywood Bowl.

In the movie Jimmy Stewart wins her, for he is the male star. Based on an original by Virginia Van Upp and Patterson McNutt. In spite of the biting moniker, it is a heavy drama and concerns a young refugee who comes to America and in order to make sure she won't be deported marries a young writer she doesn't love.

The heady Hedy hasn't a great deal to do in "Boom Town," but she'll be the belle of the ball in "Come Live With Me." Clarence Brown has been elected to direct, and maybe Clarence can find out what makes Lamarr tick. The combination seems to have been lost since "Algiers."

MORE POWER to Joe Pasternak who always sees that our old-timers get a break. I wish there were more producers in Hollywood with the same idea. He's lined up seven of the topnotchers to play Gloria Jean's uncles in "A Little Bit of Heaven."

'SUSAN AND GOD' OPENS AT STATE, ORPHEUM TOMORROW

SUSAN (Joan Crawford), Barrie (Fredric March) and Blossom (Rita Quigley) Trexel provide the drama and comedy of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's screen adaptation of Rachel Crothers' Broadway success, "Susan and God." It comes to Loew's State and Orpheum screens tomorrow.

Joan Crawford Stars

Saint or screwball, Joan Crawford is reported to look gorgeous in "Susan and God," Metro's film adaptation of the Rachel Crothers' Broadway hit starring the enchanting Gertrude Lawrence.

Fredric March co-stars as Miss Crawford's long-suffering husband in this handsome George Cukor-directed production which comes to Loew's State and Orpheum theaters tomorrow.

Susan is a frothy, unpredictable faddist who adopts a new religious movement and attempts to convert all her friends while ignoring the tangle of her own family life. They are inclined at Susan's new way of life" but at the same time her embarrassing frankness and her insistence that peace will come to them if they openly confess their sins disturbs them.

Among these friends are Ruth Hussey, John Carroll, Rita Hayworth, Nigel Bruce, Bruce Cabot and Rose Hobart. Probably more seriously imperilled by her mother's "movement" than any of the others is the adolescent Rita Quigley.

Cukor, who directed "The Women," in which Miss Crawford gave an outstanding portrayal of a "meanie," is highly enthusiastic about the charming screen star's dizzy Susan.

Lois Davis Rides Atop a Papier Mache Whale

Fish Story

Invisible wires maneuver this papier mache whale over the surf at Venice, Cal., to herald the opening of the Mardi Gras. The whale was fished out of a warehouse, taken to the beach, suspended between two poles by thin wires, and splashed with linseed oil to make it appear wet. Then pretty Lois Davis climbed aboard . . . like this.

RED RUSSIA is moving WEST.

The U. S. A. is west.

Russia has now put into her booty-bag Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia.

She already has a large part of Finland and Poland.

She is taking over Bessarabia.

This move westward of Stalin's universal absorbing machine has been foreseen by the Hearst papers for several years.

They have pointed out over and over that behind Hitler lies the menace of Russian Communism.

The latter, so far as the United States is concerned, may be THE GREATER MENACE OF THE TWO.

IT IS QUITE probable that the United States is Stalin's ultimate goal—because:

1. In no country in the world has he been so long and powerfully intrenched through his "Fifth Column" activities as he is here.

2. The program of the Comintern of Moscow calls for the conquest of the world—and that MEANS THE UNITED STATES.

3. If Communism does not conquer here, then it is of little value elsewhere, according to Lenin, the great authority on Marxism.

STALIN IS NOW MOVING WEST.

HE AWAITS the collapse of all Europe—including Germany and Italy—through famine, pestilence, blood-loss and economic debacles—to throw his hordes from the Baltic to the channel.

He has an organized political party in the United States.

It should be outlawed NOW.

While Stalin moves west Uncle Sam should move east, west, north and south over our 48 states to STAMP OUT THE RED MENACE.

We are the only country in the Western Hemisphere that recognizes Red Russia as a "legitimate" government.

That recognition should be withdrawn.

Not to do so admits, on our part, the "legitimacy" of Russia's aims—which include our DESTRUCTION.

FOR DEFENSE JOBS, Massachusetts undertakes the training of fifty thousand young men, many of them long unemployed.

Classes will be conducted, according to Education Commissioner Walter F. Downey, for aircraft mechanics, machinists, auto mechanics, sheet metal workers, welders, cabinet makers, pattern makers, electricians, blacksmiths, riveters, lathe operators, punch press operators, drill press operators and various assembly line operatives.

Furthermore, the Commissioner predicts that if the facilities of the Commonwealth's trade schools are utilized to fullest capacity "the present investment in plant and equipment of more than five million dollars can turn out in less than a year's time workers sufficiently trained to function effectively in occupations essential to national defense."

This is good news, of course. The fifty thousand men who will receive the contemplated instruction will be useful not only to the nation but to themselves and their families.

But why place the maximum at fifty thousand? We are going to have an abundance of work in Massachusetts. We may require a hundred thousand and probably two hundred thousand.

In other states, notably Connecticut, classes for ambitious youth have been conducted by skilled workers lent by important industries.

We might adopt a similar system.

AIR-MINDED Massachusetts looks with pride upon the achievements of its Civilian Air Reserve.

Organized only two months ago, this new and important branch of aviation already has ninety-five Bay State members.

The young people take their work seriously. When not engaged in such prosaic tasks as engineering, driving buses, making tools, delivering milk or keeping books, they may be seen at Riverside Airport, Revere, or some other field, flying their 18 planes, studying aerial photography, radio communication, meteorology and the hundred and one necessary things good fliers must know.

They are not training for participation in war. These "air reservists" have confidence in the good judgment of the American people to keep their government from participating in the conflict abroad.

Their purpose is rather to be useful in the emergencies which Massachusetts has experienced in the past and will undoubtedly experience again.

Aiding forest fire patrols, searching for lost persons, looking for small boats offshore and encouraging people in general to regard flying as the quickest and most efficient kind of transportation, they are making themselves individually and collectively valuable.

By E. V. DURLING

IN 1909 LORD NORTHCLIFFE, London publisher, offered a $50,000 prize for an English channel plane flight. Bleriot, the French flier, made the flight and received the fifty thousand. But the money didn't come out of Northcliffe's pocket. Lloyds of London believed a channel plane flight so unlikely at that time they insured Northcliffe for $50,000 against the possibility. And so had to pay off Monsieur Bleriot.

OUR TOWN, Detroit, "writes a feminine client," is noted for the number of men earning good salaries. And so what? Predatory women from Chicago are coming here in droves to get husbands. Detroit should make these women take out husband hunting licenses" . . . All United States records for candy eating were broken in 1939. Average American eats about 16 pounds of candy a year. A woman who knows how to make good candy always has a chance of running a small candy shop successfully . . . "I was fond of you," writes a young woman named Sheila, "but now that I learn you smoke cigars I am disillusioned and you are out of my life." Now isn't that discouraging? Well, all I can do is to seek solace in what Mr. Kipling said: "A woman is only a woman, but a good cigar is a smoke."

I AM TOLD it is no longer necessary for a woman wishing to reduce to diet or exercise. There's a machine that takes off weight while the one seeking to be slender reclines restfully. This system may be all right. But I still think diet and exercise is the best and most healthful way for a man or woman to take off weight . . .

MY DAY

NEW YORK CITY, July 10—Mayor LaGuardia said at luncheon here that the Walter Mack job awards for American youth were of great importance to business and industry, as well as to government and youth itself. The prominent people attending the party were certainly a cross-section representing a great variety of interests in American life.

In front of us, at table, sat the 13 young people who had received their contracts in the morning. They may go to work any time between now and September first. They choose the part of the country where they wish to work and the kind of work they wish to be trained to do. These jobs are created as scholarships to train young people for positions in business.

AS I LOOKED at the young faces in front of me, I thought how attractive, poised and intelligent they all looked. I wanted to talk with them all and get to know them better.

They came from all over the country and I am sure they represented different racial strains, different religions and variegated family backgrounds, but they are starting out with hope. I pray that life will treat them kindly and give them useful and happy lives.

After we left LaGuardia field, I spent a very short time at a meeting of Dr. Frank Kingdon's committee, which is a subcommittee of the United States Committee for the Care of Refugee Children. I am so glad that our money-raising committee has such a simple name, for anyone wishing to send a check will not find it difficult to remember the "Refugee Children's Committee, New York City."

I MET Mr. Drew Pearson and Mr. Robert S. Allen before dinner for the rehearsal of my brief part in their Monday evening broadcast. My son joined us for dinner by the fountain in Rockefeller Plaza, which I find a pleasant summer dining room.

Then back I went to NBC for the "Washington Merry-Go-Round" broadcast. I am very grateful to Mr. Pearson and Mr. Allen for giving me this opportunity to launch the money raising campaign for refugee children, which starts today.

A LITTLE AFTER 9 p. m., Miss Thompson and I joined Jimmy at the theater and we greatly enjoyed seeing "Louisiana Purchase." There is something irresistably funny about Mr. Victor Moore. In these days, a really amusing, pleasant evening is a great relief. The whole cast seemed to me excellent and the ladies are all so pretty they are a pleasure to see.

An early start this morning. A chance to talk with Mr. Marshall Field, and we are now returning to Hyde Park.

The Campbell Girl

"He NEVER wanted me to have anything. Why he didn't even want our divorce to appear in the papers!"

HUBBY SENDS WORD TO MRS. VAN WYCK

By Leonard Lyons

NEW YORK, July 10—HERBERT HOOVER: When Harry Hopkins submitted the report, released Sunday, concerning the business improvement in June because of the defense program, President Roosevelt asked the Secretary of Commerce: "Tell me, Harry—how does it feel to hold a job once held by Hoover?" . . . "Mr. President," replied Hopkins, "how DOES it feel?" . . . DR. ANNA SWIFT: Two of the women arrested when your establishment was raided are making confessions to the District Attorney's office. The police, however, as yet have not been able to decipher that Code-book in which you listed your eminent customers . . . SEN. McNARY: The new issue of the "Information Please" movie short, in which Wendell Willkie is a guest artist, has no references to the Presidential campaign. The program regulars had been asked not to make any cracks about it.

* * *

TONY GALENTO: Max Baer, who once starred in a hit movie, said that he's been signed by Warner Bros. to make another picture . . . HARVEY D. GIBSON: Michael Todd, who has three shows at the New York World's Fair, submitted to an emergency operation at Polyclinic hospital Sunday night . . . JIMMY HINES: Tom Dewey will try only one more case—the first big one that comes along—and then wait until his term is over, to retire from the District Attorney's job . . . MAYOR LaGUARDIA: Prescott Van Wyck, descendant of the city's first mayor, still finds a way to make his wife remember him, although he's in an institution. Whenever an inmate is discharged, Van Wyck instructs the freed man to visit his wife and convey regards.

BETTY HUTTON

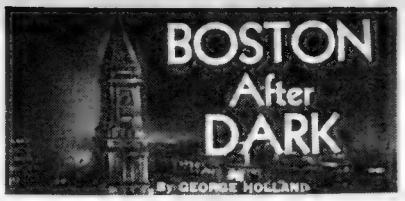
BETTY HUTTON: That World's Fair stunt to find the oldest and the youngest jitterbugs was a fizzle. While Band Leader Johnny McGee furnished the music the contestants danced. The "oldest jitterbug" proved to be 19; the youngest 14 . . . JIM FARLEY: The newspapers reported that the President had told you, confidentially, just what his plans are concerning a third term. One of those who would appreciate this information is Emil Ludwig, the President's biographer. Ludwig is completing the manuscript. Last week he wrote to the President, telling F. D. just how he plans to finish the book . . . JACK DEMPSEY: Tony Galento is willing to accept your challenge—but his manager wants the fight to be held in a private club, with only a few wealthy men contributing the purse to witness the bout.



AND YOU MEET SUCH INTERESTING PEOPLE! In addition to the pay, which is good and steady, additional twin charms of the "newspaper game" are (a) variety, and (b) "you meet such interesting people" . . . Over the years, these latter benefits are the ones which seem to have impressed the laity above all others . . . It has come to be more or less of a gag with working newspapermen, who, with a twinkle in their eyes, are likely to admit the tremendous fascination of the profession and that, yes, you do meet such interesting people . . . Besides the twinkle in the eye there is apt to be a tongue in the cheek.

AS A MATTER OF FACT instances beyond count are available which testify to the value of the "newspaper game" as a stepping-stone to easier and more remunerative rewards than those reaped as a leg-man, rewrite man, editor, or even columnist . . . It is a matter of fact, too, that nine-tenths of the average editorial staff of a newspaper (excluding correspondents in neighboring cities and towns) seldom emerge from the office in line of duty . . . Consequently, the "interesting people" encountered in a week's routine are more likely to be the paymaster and his assistant than a batch of foreign diplomats, movie stars, jockeys, or politicians . . . The trouble is that this, the fundamental background of the profession, has received too little emphasis in motion pictures, radio dramas or fiction stories of the "newspaper game."

WITH THIS PREAMBLE—we bring to your attention today the story of a young Boston girl, an ex-(as girl reporters are known) "sob-sister," who surely enough did meet some interesting people while working as a reporter for this newspaper, and who, as a result may be a future Bea Wain, or even a Dottie Lamour . . . This girl-reporter's assignment to interview Fred Waring when Fred was in Boston several years ago has proved the "break" in her career . . . It was a lively interview, and an interesting one, and Mr. Waring was very pleased . . . He told the girl-reporter to call on him, if, in the future he might be helpful.

THROUGH MR. WARING the Boston girl met Johnny O'Connor, a very potent gentleman who publishes songs and manages selected artists . . . Mr. O'Connor is a member of the board of directors of ASCAP, the mutual society of Tin Pan Alley which provides songwriters with an assured yearly income . . . And now came the startling disclosure that this particular girl-reporter owned an added talent . . . She could sing . . . Moreover, she had earned a living by singing before family protests against a stage career caused her to quit . . . When she applied to the managing editor of this newspaper for a job, with a note from George M. Cohan recommending her character and integrity, the aspiring young she-reporter disclosed few particulars of her past life . . .

PAT O'BRIEN TO QUIT WARNER BROS.

By Louella O. Parsons

Pat O'Brien

HOLLYWOOD, July 10—Pat O'Brien and Warner Brothers, after many years association, have parted company. Surprising, for Pat, it is said, gives the performance of his life in "Knute Rockne—All American." He has copied the mannerisms of the beloved Notre Dame football coach and really does a magnificent job. 'Tis whispered the reason Pat's option has not been taken up is that he was requested to take a cut in salary which he refused. I can't help but think he and Warners will get together on some compromise basis for he's been at Warners so long it wouldn't seem natural for him to make pictures elsewhere.

FAY WRAY

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD: The Fay Wray-Cliff Lewis romance has the approval of all their friends; reports are current that the Melville Coopers are rifting. Margaret Sullavan and her two youngsters really creating excitement in Saks where they were shopping; Myron Selznick has offered his mountain cabin for the English refugee children, which I call nice because it's his favorite spot in the world; Bette Davis and Willie Wyler taking iced champagne on the "John Doe" set to Frank Capra on his first day's shooting at Warners.

Gary Cooper stopping some of the tourists to ask the way to the Capra stage; the smartly dressed gal Bob Taplinger beaued to the "They Drive by Night" preview was Betsy Callendar, Detroit socialite; Marlene Dietrich looked so lovely in a summer dress and bright red hat. She was with Eric Remarque.

There was no one any more attractive at the preview than David Hearst's young and pretty wife; the famous American paintings on exhibit at the William Haines studio will be shown first Thursday at a cocktail party. The proceeds go to the Assistance League-Red Cross fund.

ONE OF THE STORIES of heartbreak town—Hollywood, was told me today. Granville Bates, 58, got the break he'd been waiting for all his life in "My Favorite Wife" and more recently he was signed by Frank Capra to play the mayor in "Meet John Doe." His cup of happiness was full to overflowing when he landed the Capra job. Today he failed to appear on the set—and then came the sad news he had died suddenly. He was so good as the judge in "My Favorite Wife" that Warners put him in "Tugboat Annie Sails Again" and "Flowing Gold."

TWO-MINUTE STORY

TOM CARSON dashed across the small clearing, slid down behind a prominent boulder, and lay there a moment to recover his breath.

He lifted his head cautiously above the rock, raised his gun, and plunged down behind the rock instinctively as the sharp report of his gun split the calm July air. Strange silence prevailed after the echo of his shot died away; no answering barrage shattered the quiet scene. He was puzzled.

A triumphant grin crossed his face; the soldier that had threatened him from the right was down. He could see his legs protruding from behind the rocks.

THERE WERE four more of the enemy, however, to the front and left; they had him trapped. Their line of defense was his only means of escape, for an insurmountable fence blocked his retreat. If he could only hold them off until dark, he might be able to slip through their lines.

He surveyed the scene about him intently, seeking for a way to freedom. A slight movement in the bushes about 90 yards away startled him.

His fingers stiffened about the weapon in his hand. Raising his arm quickly, he took careful aim and pulled the trigger. Still there was no answer.

A wave of panic swept over him as he realized that they were cunningly waiting for his ammunition to give out so that they could take him prisoner.

THEY THOUGHT they had him, but he'd fool them. He wouldn't waste any shots. He felt that he could hold out as long as they could.

Pangs of hunger assailed him as he crouched behind his shelter, and he tightened his belt grimly, wishing that he had some food with him. Shifting to a more comfortable position, he sat quietly keeping his senses alert.

Suddenly, a loud blast shattered the silence. Tom recognized it as the 5 o'clock whistle. His mother appeared on the piazza and called, "Supper's ready, Tommy. Put your toy soldiers away. You can play with them tomorrow."

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

IT ISN'T always the fellow in the front line trenches—or the Big Shot in Washington—who renders the greatest service to his country. There are others who have never worn a medal nor received a citation, whose service is as valiant, and even more vital to America's future. Others we rarely notice.

I came upon them in one of those help-yourself markets. A couple of youngsters in their early twenties . . . shabby clothes, run-over shoes . . . the pasty complexions of those who live in cheap, airless warrens.

HE WASN'T much to look at. A round-shouldered, skinny, chinless sort of a kid but friendly as a homeless pup. The wife fitted the same picture—a raw-boned, homely girl, but with a cheerfulness about her that made you forget her faded dress and straggly hair. Just such a couple as you see shopping by the hundreds any Saturday night, stretching their scanty nickels as far as they'll go, looking wistfully at the fancy goods, then stocking up, cheerfully, with cheap products. Moving around in some shabby, happy little world of their own.

Two shabby youngsters bending over a cooing babe, sacrificing their own slim chance of freedom, comfort and security, cheerfully enduring endless hardship and privation for its dear sake—there was, I thought, no braver sight in all this land!

Yes, I know—cynics may say that it is a crime to bring such little ones into the horror and despair of this mad world. Scientists and social workers may vow that such children have no chance, when both training and environment are sadly lacking by modern standards. But there was no lack in the love that bent above that tiny tad nor in the ambition that glowed in their adoring eyes. And when it comes to computing sociological values I'd back the power of that love and pride against all the cynical sophistication of our better laboratories!

THIS PREPAREDNESS program of ours is a great plan. And it's a proud thing to be able to boast of millions of cannon and planes, ships and armies. But while we boast, let's remember that the real preparedness is being done by shabby youngsters pushing go-carts . . . choosing cabbages instead of caviar. And the real treasure of America are the babies in those go-carts . . . and the love that bends above them!

Food Stamps for Boston Next Week

Boston is expected to have the food stamp plan in operation by next week, William G. O'Hare, executive director of the welfare department, said today, after a conference on Monday in Washington with officials of the Federal Surplus Commodities Corp.

Mayor Tobin and O'Hare tried to have the officials permit them to adopt it here last fall, but they held back because it had not been tried in a city the size of Boston. Since that time it has had a trial in Philadelphia and Brooklyn, N. Y.

Love and Marriage

A Middle-Aged Romance

"DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

"I have been married 20 years, but found soon after the ceremony that I had made a grave mistake, because there was ten years difference in our ages.

"After the birth of my first child I kept busy with him, and then two years later the second one came. But I became very discontented. My husband was a very good man, a home-loving hermit and was very good when money was plentiful. I took up singing on the radio. He objected to this. Then we had another youngster. He became interested in a girl, lost his money and position.

"At this time we boarded out the children and took a room. I got a job and he worked as a salesman. When I discovered we were to have another baby, my husband disappeared. I took the children and went to live with my mother.

"After the fourth baby came, I had a letter from my husband begging me to take him back, which I finally did, and we started housekeeping again. But what a life. We have separate rooms. He speaks when he feels like it, which is seldom. Berates me for being a poor housekeeper. I work three days a week, the children are grown up now, and while they are lots of fun, I crave companionship of a husband.

"And now I'm in love with a man who has everything in common with me. Our likes and dislikes are the same, and I really believe this is my real fate. What shall I do? I feel I should have married him years ago.

UNDECIDED."

It seems from parts of your letter—far too long to print—that you haven't always given your marriage a fair trial, persuading yourself from the beginning that your husband's age made the marriage incompatible.

But isn't this romance, of which you write me so vividly, the effect of a late-blooming love affair? Believe it or not, middle-aged romance so often has a headier quality than young love. And then, if it is not "fate," as you call it, the disillusionment is more bitter.

I'm putting on the table all the cards you have given me.

• • •

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I'm very much in love with a man of 29, whom I met at a party at the home of a girl friend. He took me home, and when my father met him, he was very angry that I would go out with a man who has a wife and two children, although he is divorced. Do you see any harm in that? I am 17 years of age. I'm in my last year in high school.

M.

It seems to me, as you are only 17 years old and a dependent in your father's home, that you should take his advice as to this divorced man. I suggest that you find out something about the divorcee whether it was granted to him or to his wife, and the amount of alimony that the court requires him to pay toward the support of his children.

With all these objections it seems to me it would be a very unwise venture to consider marriage with this man.

• • •

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

My girl and I have been saving for the past two years in the hope of putting a substantial down-payment on a home. I hear there are a great many government aids in the way of low-cost housing, federal loans and other helps from Uncle Sam to his nieces and nephews.

I also hear there is a government periodical designed to help young people in our position. Could you give us the name of it and how to go about getting it?

WOULD-BE HOME BUILDER.

There are several publications put out by the United States Government Printing Office which you might find very helpful. One is "Suburbanites and Home Builders" which is a price-list covering building materials, structure reports, recommended minimum requirements for small dwelling construction, also a pamphlet on landscaping the home and the keeping of lawns.

I would suggest that you send to the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. for one of these price-lists. That will be given to you free of charge. The prices of the bulletins are listed, many of them only five cents.

Manners

Family Rift

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

We have been invited to our niece's wedding. I have not spoken to this niece or to her mother for several years, and they just sent us an invitation as they did to the other members of the family. Now we feel that this niece and her mother should have come to see us, to show us that we are really wanted. What do you think?

ELIZABETH.

Since I know nothing about what caused this unfortunate situation I couldn't give you any advice about "past performances." However, in my judgment, what is important now is your present attitude. Your niece and her mother have sent you a most important invitation, an invitation which shows that they want to forget the past and want you to forgive it.

Since, as you say, you received the invitation that all the other members of the family received, I really think that you have no special right to demand also that they come to see you, to supplement this invitation to the wedding.

I hope that you will decide to go to the wedding, that you will send a wedding gift to your niece and that you will offer your complete social co-operation when you attend the wedding. You are given a fine opportunity to lift the clouds from this unfortunate family situation. If you are broad-minded and pleasant about this you will be happier and you will make the bride and everyone concerned happier.

into her past, except as it concerned her experience as a newswriter . . . This was a slim parcel of experience, but the kid made good . . . Then she packed up and returned to New York . . . The stage-bug had been biting again . . . All the while, it developed, this lady journalist was an experienced actress . . . She had understudied leading roles in Broadway musical comedies, and had been singing successfully for a living for several years . . . In her past was a diploma from the New England Conservatory of Music . . . But it was the meeting with Fred Waring (among other "interesting people") that has brought about a turn toward good fortune.

BECAUSE MR. WARING'S MANAGER, Mr. O'Connor, is now her manager, too . . . And before concluding this little story it might be a good idea to identify the lass . . . She is Ethelen Van Port, a niece of the late Sheriff John Kelliher, and a niece of the Brighton contractor, Charles Munro . . . Miss Van Port is in Boston for a few days . . . There's a new wrinkle, incidentally, in auditions these days, a dodge which saves wear and tear on the vocal chords, and presents an artist or artiste at his or her very best, doing away with nervousness and "mike fright" . . . Singers are now playing recordings of their work for interested producers or nightclub owners . . . Mickey Alpert and his boss, the retiring barrister-owner of the Cocoanut Grove, lent their ears last night to the waxings of Miss Van Port's showiest repertory . . . and immediately at the conclusion of a record-rendition of "Imagination" Maestro Alpert, very much impressed, grabbed for a telephone.

THE ASTUTE MR. O'CONNOR—by sending both the girl and her records to Boston—had enlisted a volunteer assistant manager in Mr. Alpert, who is quite a salesman on his own . . . Mr. Alpert recommended the erstwhile girl-reporter for a choice assignment — at the Cliff House, Scituate . . . He was lavish with his praise—was Mickey . . . And if terms are mutually pleasing, Miss Van Port will accomplish her end of passing the summer near Boston and her relatives . . . By fall, Mr. O'Connor has other plans for her—in New York . . . Yes, a modest, slim little girl, whose appearance is striking and exotic, met some "interesting people" while pursuing her secondary major right here in Boston.

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY. Harry Gray, assistant supervising editor of the MacFadden publications, is vacationing for a week at Cape Cod . . . But he's reading—for a week—no manuscripts . . . Interruption: A benefactor to mankind will be the man or woman who invents a typewriter ribbon which requires something less than consummate skill in mechanics to change . . . Tom Rafferty, the eccentric dancer, had a routine as a Romeo which produced a couple of aching hearts in Boston, and a lovely member of the Mayfair chorus is mourning his absence most openly . . . Chalkedon will probably go to the post an odds-on favorite in the Massachusetts Handicap . . . At 7 to 5 last year he burned up a ton of dough by running only fourth . . . The Red Sox are being quoted at 12 to 1 in New York, which seems to be an "overlay" . . . If the boys get mad they still have a chance . .

NATALIE HAYS HAMMOND'S New Year's Resolution has boomeranged into plans for the most gigantic celebration the North Shore, and Cape Ann in particular, has ever known . . .

It was back in the dawn of 1940 that she resolved to plan a celebration to make her home town of Gloucester better known . . . and now preparations for Port of Gloucester Day, Aug. 14th, and Defense Day the 15th, eclipse all other big doings along the shore this summer . . .

A lot of work and plenty of fun are involved in putting over anything as big as Gloucester Day promises to be . . . Calling on her wide friendship with stage, movie and musical celebrities, the diminutive millionairess has rounded up an imposing list of stars to come and stay with her and make personal appearances at various events . . .

Kate Smith has promised to come and so have Jeannette MacDonald, Bert Lytell, Helen Mencken, and many others.

The bevy of post debs who are working with Mrs. George C. Clement on the ticket committee for the dance at the Casino the first night of the celebration, were entertained yesterday at Miss Hammond's beautiful medieval castle situated on the rocky cliffs overlooking Gloucester Harbor . . .

TEA FOR TWO enjoyed by Alice Smith and Joan Trumbull at a recent garden party for one of their sister debs. Alice, who made her début at a dance in Concord last month, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Smith of Lincoln. Joan's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Trumbull of Concord.

It was too stormy for refreshments to be served on the terrace surrounding the turquoise swimming pool . . . built in the rocks and literally lined with hundreds of crimson geraniums . . . so the guests sat around the cosy baronial living room admiring autographed photographs of most of the crowned heads of Europe . . .

The hostess in a turquoise blue silk spectator sports frock, set the keynote of informality for the rest of her guests who were dressed in colorful summery outfits . . . Betsy Chalifoux, whose engagement to Harry Draper was recently announced, wore a cream pleated linen dress emblazoned with a hand embroidered monogram . . . Sally Sears and Mrs. John Perry in blue and white prints, and Lucy Cochrane in a striking green dirndl with a green and white stripped skirt and red mocassins were others in the party . . . Lucy's fondness for horses and riding were revealed in the diamond pin in the shape of three horses, which decorated the front of her dress . . .

An ardent professional hockey and baseball fan, Lucy volunteered to round up some of her Red Sox acquaintances to lend a helping hand with the affair . . .

Mrs. Calvin Coolidge is taking a lively interest in plans for Gloucester Day and has consented to be a patroness together with many other prominent national and local people . . . Among those from the North Shore are Mrs. Samuel J. Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Abbott, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hammond, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Bigelow, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Foster, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ira Nelson Morris, the Earl and Countess of Lindsay, Miss Amy Curtis, Miss Katharine Lane, Mrs. Frederick Button.

Before leaving yesterday's party several of Miss Hammond's guests were taken up to see her menagerie which includes a talkative Mexican parrot who jabbers and laughs incessantly, two monkeys and a couple of fine feathered birds . . .

Still other patrons and patronesses for the celebration are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Woods, Mrs. Samuel Warren, Mrs. Augustus F. Goodwin, Mrs. Augustus Rantoul, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Sears, Mr. and Mrs. John Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Williams, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. B. Devereux Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Bertelsen, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Sortwell, Mr. and Mrs. Fitzwilliam Sargent, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Morss, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hall, Mrs. M. Graeme Haughton, and Mrs. Gardiner Lane.

The Misses Joan and Ann Griess, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Justin Griess of "Salamagundi," Hamilton, have left the North Shore for a two month's sojourn on a dude ranch in the west. They were accompanied by Miss Marie Palmer of Manchester. Joan Griess was one of last winter's popular and attractive debutantes.

Benefit for Red Cross Fund

The American Red Cross will benefit from a special performance of "Accent on Youth" at the Monomoy Theater in Chatham next Saturday evening.

Prominent among the patrons supporting the event which is under the direction of Mary E. Winslow, are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Emerson, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Loveland, Mrs. L. T. Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Eldridge, Mrs. Ernest Howes, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ahern and Mrs. N. S. Bartow.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Winslow of Brookline will entertain a group of friends at dinner before the performance and others planning to attend are Mrs. Caspar Ranger, Mrs. Harold Stanwood, Mr. and Mrs. Lyon Smith, Mrs. Harry Stearns, Mr. and Mrs. James Pettit and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Mannon.

Society Notes

Mrs. Hugh Bancroft of Cohasset was hostess at a luncheon this week before the regular Monday afternoon contract bridge party at the Cohasset Golf Club.

Bass Rocks Theater Opens

North Shore Society Attends

Salty sea breezes, succery gowns and congenial company provided a gay atmosphere for the opening of "Springtime for Henry," starring Edward Everett Horton, at the Bass Rocks Theater this week.

Curtain time found the little white theater packed with North Shore society's most prominent devotees of the stage, most of whom had come on from dinner parties beforehand.

Early arrivals included Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Woods and their dinner guests, Mr. and Mrs. Lentner Sewall of Manchester and Mr. and Mrs. LeBaron S. Willard, Jr., of Ipswich. Mrs. Woods wore a flowered print gown and Mrs. Small chose a striking pale gray chiffon outfit.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Restarick Withington (Eleanor Jones), who are on from Honolulu to visit the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jones of Magnolia, were warmly greeted by old friends during intermission.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Odman of New York, house guests of Mrs. Q. A. Shaw McKean, attended with their hostess and Frederick Bradlee, Jr. Mr. Odman is a well known international yachtsman and his wife is the former Peggy Otis of Boston.

Dr. and Mrs. George Dorrance of Philadelphia and Bass Rocks walked over to the theater from their home nearby, and still others in the throng applauding Mr. Horton were Mrs. Isaac Patch and her son Isaac Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Philip Sears, Anne Blake, Mrs. J. A. Lowell Blake, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick L. W. Richardson of Essex and Mrs. Alonzo Wessel (grandmother of those attractive glamour girls, Lucy and Nancy Cochrane) who was charmingly dressed in chartreuse crepe.

BOSTON COUPLE ON HONEYMOON

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Lewis of Boston are spending their honeymoon in Bermuda. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lewis of Medfield, was No. 1 player on the Harvard polo team this past winter. Mrs. Lewis is the former Phyllis Harriman of New York, granddaughter of Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, U. S. ambassador to Norway.

Patroness

NEW YORK VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Carroll of Jamaica Plain are staying at the Hotel Commodore in New York following a week's visit in Montreal. They plan to return to Boston tomorrow.

You Can Be Beautiful

New Facial Stops Shine

By ARLINE GOULD

JUST WHAT good to you is a particular night when the music sounds as though it had been dipped in perfume . . . and, for all you can do, your face gleams from the heat five minutes after you've rushed to the powder room and fairly rubbed powder into it?

You can forget your face . . . and throw yo' rself into the full enjoyment of glamorous days or nights . . . if you've used a special waterproof make-up foundation that's impervious to every kind of moisture.

An unusual liquid cream in a handy carrying tube has been acquiring beauty-conscious converts in uncountable numbers . . . and now it can acquire more and more . . . because it is now available in 10c tubes which may be your trial of new glamour, and an incentive to get the extra quantity you're given in the larger tube.

"There are innumerable shades to be had . . . we couldn't begin to list them . . . and if you're going vacationing, it would be wise to invest in a series of the small tubes. As your complexion darkens, you'll go on into the lush, gleaming dark tones . . . when you get back and the tan fades, you can work back through to the fairer tints.

It's an unusual and most effective manner of application that rules this unusual make-up foundation. Apply it with wet absorbent cotton, as a wash. This is the secret of "setting" it. Then immediately remove excess moisture with another pad this time of dry cotton. Now, you're dazzlingly made-up (with the addition of a dusting of powder, if you wish) and be off with you for bigger and better fun!

If you'd like to learn all about this waterproof make-up, available in a great range of tints, and also in 10c sizes now, phone Arline Gould, LIBerty 4000, week-days except Saturday, or write, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

YOURS can be a face whose flawless loveliness is heightened by fresh blooms tucked into your hair . . . instead of shown up as dull and lined . . . if you use a clever waterproof make-up foundation recommended by Arline Gould. And why not try also for further bedazzlement, the aureole-like coiffure that Carole Landis chooses.

PEANUT BUTTER ICE BOX COOKIES

2 cups sifted flour
3 tsp. double-acting baking powder.
½ tsp. salt
2 cups whole bran
½ cup butter or other shortening
½ cup peanut butter
½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed.
1½ cups granulated sugar
2 eggs, well beaten

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Add bran. Cream butter thoroughly, add peanut butter, and cream together until smooth. Add sugars gradually and cream well. Add eggs and blend. Add flour mixture gradually, mixing well. Shape in 1½-inch roll, wrap in waxed paper. Chill thoroughly. Cut in ¼-inch slices. Bake on greased sheet in hot oven (400 deg. F.) 8 minutes. Makes 4 dozen.

Your Hat for Midsummer

By ANNICE BRINK

MORE about hats . . . and you'll surely want a midseason number to refresh your summer wardrobe, with which you're probably all too familiar right now, and which could do with a bit of spicing.

Try yourself a pompadour . . . and then buy a pompadour hat. They're virtually THE hats of the midseason . . . and you'll find a softly fluff high roll of hair around your face a great deal easier on you than some of the "smart" coiffures the past years have produced.

In showing the front of the hair, a long back line is necessitated. If you're a bit set against the small hat worn on the top or back of the head, consider one of the large-brimmed types that look so brand-new when worn that way. A stunning black velvet "pompadour" hat is making use of the advance style of veils draped across the face. This one has a tiny band of veil, no more than three inches wide, and it goes across the eyes, from the temples. The veil itself is sequin-embroidered . . . and there are velvet mitts to match, with sequin-touched lace coming up to the base of the fingers.

The Incas, who continue the South American inspiration into fall, had a quaint idea that large ears were very ornamental . . . and trimmed them up with large, jewel-encrusted rings, worn high up. Some of the new hats have bands draped across the back of the head, and from them project jeweled ornaments which hit you right at the top of the ear . . . a neat idea, we think, if you have always wanted to wear your hair off your ears, but couldn't because they were a bit Gable. Now you can just tuck 'em under the jeweled gadgets!

Do That Salad in Color

By MARTHA LEE

IF YOU WANT to serve one cool dish, prepare a salad ahead of time, use up that dab of fruit or left-over chicken, carry out a color scheme—make a mold.

You may be of the unflavored gelatin school; your inclination may lean toward the colored flavored line; more likely you use both varieties.

When you're in a hurry for your gelatin to get pour it into several small molds instead of one large one. For easier removal of intricate molds, dip the mold in warm water almost to the edge, hold it there for a second and then unmold. A slight shake sometimes helps to loosen it. Learn to make work light as summer's breezes; let these well chosen recipes do it all.

JELLIED GRAPEFRUIT SALAD

1¼ cups grapefruit sections
Water
1 pkg. lemon-flavored gelatin
1 tbsp. lemon juice
Dash of salt
2 tbsp. chopped pimiento
1-3 cup diced celery

Drain grapefruit sections and add water to juice to make 1¾ cups; heat the liquid. Dissolve gelatin in hot water and grapefruit juice mixture. Add lemon juice and salt. Chill until slightly thickened; add grapefruit sections, pimiento and celery. Turn into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise. Makes 6 servings.

SHRIMP AND CUCUMBER SALAD

5½ oz. jar shrimps
1 pkg. lime-flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 cup boiling water
1 cup grated cucumber
1¼ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp tabasco sauce
5 tsp. vinegar
1½ tsp. grated onion
½ cup diced celery
1 large pimiento, diced
1-3 cup thinly sliced pickles

Wash shrimps and remove black lines along back. Dissolve gelatin in water. Cool and add cucumber, salt, tabasco sauce, vinegar, and onion. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in shrimps, celery, pimiento and pickles, and turn into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on nest of crisp lettuce. Serve with mayonnaise, salad dressing, or French dressing. Makes 6 servings.

CHICKEN-OLIVE DINNER MOLD

2 envelopes plain, unflavored gelatin
1¼ cups cold water
2 tbsp. vinegar
1 tbsp. sugar
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. mustard
2 tbsp salad oil
2 tbsp. catsup
2 eggs, well beaten
½ cup mayonnaise
2 cups cooked diced hicken
½ cup diced celery
½ cup sliced ripe olives
1-3 cup chopped pimiento

Soak gelatin in ¼ cup cold water 5 minutes. Combine remaining water, vinegar, sugar, salt, mustard and salad oil and heat. Add softened gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add diced chicken, celery, olives and pimiento. Turn into mold; chill. Unmold, garnish with lettuce, tomato, ripe olives. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Boston Society Folk in Maine

The summer resort season at Belfast and Camden, Me., is well under way, with the recent arrivals of many summer colonists from Boston.

Mrs. Bradbury Cushing of the Hotel Statler is at her summer home, The Gables, in Camden, where she is joined for week-ends by Mr. Cushing. Mrs. Edward S. Calderwood of West Roxbury has opened Red Top, her summer estate at Searsport, and recently entertained at a supper party in honor of Joanna C. Colcord of Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

The Dr. John Richardson family of Wellesley Hills arrived last week-end to visit Mrs. Richardson's mother, Mrs. Albert N. Blanchard at Belfast. Other recent arrivals at Belfast and nearby resorts, from Boston and vicinity, include Mr and Mrs. Clarence E. Hyde and Mrs. Annie Cornforth of West Roxbury. Mrs. Irving Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. West, and Mrs. Ralph Johnson, who has returned to her summer home, Mile's End, accompanied by Miss Helen Bailey, who has been a summer resident of Belfast for many years.

Mrs. Frank W. Lowe of Boston has opened her summer home in Belfast and will be joined for week-ends by Mr. Lowe and their son, Frank, Jr. Mrs. Leonard Murphy has arrived at her place at Saturday Cove. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy returned recently from a cruise to South America. Mr. Murphy has now gone to Texas but will join his wife at Belfast later in the season.

Darn Those Dagwood Sandwiches!

For Sentimental Reasons

By Brooks Daily

THE YOUNG Pages had come to the parting of their ways. That was one thing at least they agreed upon. And as Linda Archer, Sue Page's best friend would tell you, it was the one thing they never should have agreed upon.

The Cast of Characters in 'For Sentimental Reasons'

SUE, who decides to leave
RICKIE, her husband,
LINDA, the friend of both.
JEREMIAH, the dog she and Rickie agreed to share.

Sue straightened her slender shoulders and faced her husband. "You may go wherever you like I'll stay here—with Jeremiah."

"Jeremiah," Rickie Page announced, "comes with me!"

"Jeremiah stays with me!"

"He'll be much happier with me," Rickie informed her coolly. "You don't understand him."

Sue's lovely blue eyes shot off sparks. "I think Jeremiah is the best judge of that!"

"Then suppose we let him decide. Call him!"

Jeremiah lay sprawled before the fireplace, his imagination running rampant with adventure that had to do with a very large and very juicy bone. He had been named after a remote uncle of Sue's, because "he has a set of whiskers under his chin exactly like Uncle Jeremiah's!"

When Sue called him, Jeremiah turned his head and eyed her sleepily. He was about to turn back to his dreams, but instead he gave a last ecstatic wriggle, leaped up and ran to her wagging his tail. She took him in her arms, smiling triumphantly.

Then Rickie whistled, and Jeremiah was away.

DIVIDE DOG CUSTODY

Sue, almost in tears at this perfidy, called him back. Like a flash he was in her lap, barking with excitement. Rickie called, then Sue. They were both calling him at once. Suddenly, Jeremiah in the midst of this dashing to and fro, stopped dead in his tracks in the middle of the floor.

Rickie laughed without mirth. "He's a big help." He shrugged. "Well, we might divide him, along with the other wedding presents."

"You mean like Solomon and the baby? That isn't funny!" Sue said sharply.

"No, I mean—It sounds silly of course," Rickie's face reddened. "But why can't we share Jeremiah? I mean you keep him part of the time and I——"

So that's the way it was finally worked out. Sue was to have "custody" of Jeremiah for the first week after which Rickie would have him for a week and so on, throughout the years.

A couple of evenings after Rickie had left, Linda Archer went to Sue's for dinner. She was busy trying to "talk some sense" into Sue's lovely, stubborn little head, when Jeremiah walked in. His tail was between his legs, his ears flopped, his gait was slow and mournful. In his mouth he held one of Rickie's old worn house slippers, and when he laid it at Sue's feet, his eyes, as they looked up at her under their heavy fringe, were desolate. Without a moment's warning, Sue was on the floor beside him, muffling her weeping in his shaggy coat.

"I knew it!" Linda cried triumphantly. "Oh, Sue, you poor little fool, why don't you do something about it?"

Sue lifted her head. "I'm not crying about Rickie," she sobbed, "I—just feel sorry for Jeremiah."

And the next day she tried to make it up to Jeremiah. She took him, sitting beside her in her roadster, to the butcher shop. He tried to jump out as usual, when he smelled the luscious odors emanating from the shop, but Sue pushed him back. "You stay there like a good boy, and I'll bring you the present I promised you."

When she came out of the butcher shop the front seat was empty. She looked in the back of the seat and on the floor. No Jeremiah.

She was frantic. She called him. Then suddenly she saw, coming toward her, a familiar, broad-shouldered figure. In spite of herself her heart did a flip-flop. It was Rickie and held close in his arms was Jeremiah — Jeremiah squirming and licking and yelping with happiness.

"He followed me around the corner," Rickie explained. Then, "You look—That's a new hat isn't it? Very silly." Rickie pronounced.

Sue snatched Jeremiah from his arms and got in the car. "My hats are no longer any concern of yours!" She slammed the door. But when Rickie, with a wry grin, started to leave, it took the strength of both her arms to keep Jeremiah from leaping out after him.

TEARFUL FAREWELL

On the day that Jeremiah was to start his first week with Rickie, Linda Archer dropped in on Sue. "Why not let me take him over to Rick," she suggested. "I have my car and I'm going over that way."

Sue fondled Jeremiah in a tearful farefu. She whispered close to his ear, "If Rickie's bad, and goes out nights and doesn't miss me, you—you bite him!"

With Rickie gone, although Sue would still not admit it, life had lost its main ingredient. With Jeremiah gone it had lost its spice So long as she had him, she had a link with Rickie.

One evening Rickie called her on the telephone. "I thought this was my week for Jeremiah, the whole week. When he followed me around the block that time, I brought him back to you, you know."

"What in the world are you talking about?" she demanded.

"Isn't he with you?"

"He certainly is not," Sue said, and then heatedly, "Are you trying to imply that I am holding Jeremiah in hiding from you?"

"Sorry, honey," Rickie said from habit. "The little critter seems to have been mislaid and I thought that perhaps—"

"Do you mean Jeremiah is lost?" "Probably paying a visit to the pooch across the hall," Rickie said casually. "Sorry to have bothered you. Good-bye, Sue." And that was all.

But the next day there was more. It was in the afternoon paper—a small boxed item on the back page.

LOST: Small gray and white dog. Collar bearing license No. 1990. Answers to name Jeremiah. Valued for sentimental reasons Large reward.

Sue dashed to the telephone. "Rickie," she cried when he answered the ring, "I just saw your ad in the paper. Then he—Jeremiah really is lost!"

Rickie's voice was worn. "I'm afraid so. Gosh, I'm sorry, Sue."

"But why didn't you tell me?" Sue waited.

"I—I didn't want to worry you. He was my responsibility, and I thought it was up to me to—"

Suddenly Sue began to cry.

"Sue! Don't do that. Wait. I'm coming right over."

"But when did it happen? Sue asked later when Rickie was sitting beside her on the sofa.

"It was the night I called you. I—"

THOUGHT SHE TOOK DOG

"It was just," Rickie told her, "because one of the neighborhood kids said he had seen a pooch that anawered Jeremiah's description following a lady around the corner. Naturally I thought it was you."

"But how—"

"He was tied up in the court," Rickie explained. "I paid the janitor's boy to watch him while I was away, but apparently the little beggar went to sleep on the job."

"Rickie," Sue said suddenly in a soft little voice, "what did you mean in your ad when you said 'valued for sentimental reasons'?"

"Jeremiah," Rickie said slowly, "was more than just a dog. He—he reminded me of you."

"Oh, Rickie," Sue's voice choked, "and he reminded me of you."

"We've got to find him now," she said a little later from the haven of Rickie's arms. "Think of what he has done for us."

Just then the telephone rung. It was Linda Archer.

"Where's Rickie?" she demanded.

"Rickie," said Sue, "is where he belongs—with me. Oh Linda, we—"

It was only a few minutes later, while they were still in the throes of making up lost time, that there came a scratching on the door. There was no mistaking the ecstatic yelping that accompanied it. Sue and Rickie had the door open in a single move. And Jehemiah leaped at them, pawing them both indiscriminately.

When the wild greeting had abated for a moment, Rickie noticed the note attached to Jeremiah's collar. He handed it to Sue who read it aloud.

"I've always made it a habit to give my wedding presents in pairs—until I met you two. Jeremiah cannot be divided, and neither can you. So I borrowed him—'for sentimental reasons'. Am returning him for the same. See that you live up to them Love, LINDA."

THE END

IN COMPLIANCE WITH THE PROVISIONS—AS STATED IN ARTICLE FOURTEENTH—OF THE WILL OF THE LATE GEORGE ROBERT WHITE—VIZ:

ARTICLE FOURTEENTH: Whereas my sister Mary E. Sullivan has died and I have otherwise provided for my sister Harriet J. Hastings, I do now carry out by immediate gift my public charitable purpose which in previous wills I [illegible] provided for in remainder, and I do now give all the real and residue of my property of every nature to the City of Boston, the same to be held as a permanent charitable trust fund to be known as the GEORGE ROBERT WHITE FUND, and the net income only to be used for creating works of public utility and beauty, for the use and enjoyment of the inhabitants of the City of Boston. It is my intention that no part of said income, however, shall be used for a religious, political, educational or any purpose which it shall be the duty of the City to, in ordinary course of events to provide.

The control and management of said Fund and the disbursement of the income shall be in the hands of a board of five trustees to consist of the Mayor, who shall be its chairman, the President of the City Council, the City Auditor, the President of the Chamber of Commerce and the President of the Bar Association of the City of Boston. If by reason of the abolition of any one or more of these offices or the declination or resignation of any one or more of the persons holding them for the time being a vacancy or vacancies shall occur, I direct that such vacancies shall be filled by the remaining members of the board, by the election of the persons whose respective positions and duties shall in the opinion of the board most nearly correspond therewith. As this is a public charitable gift to the City of Boston, it is my intention that the [illegible] City shall at all times be officially represented by a majority of the board of trustees charged with its management.

The business of the Fund shall be transacted through the regular departments of the City, viz, the Treasurer, Auditor, Corporation Counsel etc., and a suitable office or offices for the use of the trustees shall be provided for them by the City in the City Hall or elsewhere in which shall be kept all books and records of every nature relating to the management of the Fund property subject and readily accessible during business hours for the reasonable inspection of citizens, so that all who so desire may have full knowledge of the conduct of the business of the Fund. I direct that said income shall not be anticipated or pledged beyond the amount actually in hand, but it may be accumulated for any purpose within the scope of the gift, and successive accumulations may be applied to the same object. Any work or works established from the Fund may be improved, extended, enlarged or added to from time to time, but the current expense of their care and maintenance shall be borne by the City. I also direct that no part of said income shall be mingled with other funds or applied in joint undertakings; but that each work established under the gift shall be separate and distinct, and shall always retain in a conspicuous place a suitable inscription identifying [illegible] it as erected or established from said George Robert White Fund. If for any reason the principal of said Fund shall at any time become impaired the income shall be allowed to accumulate until such impairment shall have been made good.

Inasmuch as I believe an enlightened public opinion to be the most effective safeguard for the preservation and maintenance of such a charitable fund and the best guide to its effective use, I direct that at least once a year the trustees shall cause to be published in most if not all of the daily newspapers of general circulation in Boston a full and comprehensive report, duly audited, and signed and sworn to by at least three of their number, setting forth the receipts, disbursements, and investments of the Fund and a copy of this fourteenth article of my will establishing it.

In order to diminish the chance of hasty or unconsidered action in the expenditure of income, I believe that no substantial expenditure should be made in any [illegible] until it shall have been under consideration by the trustees for at least three months.

As it is probable that said Fund will contain in greater part of real estate entirely situated in the City of Boston which is reasonably sure to increase in value, I urgently recommend that such real estate be not sold for a period of at least one hundred (100) years, that leases of the same [illegible] shall be subject to reexaminations as a basis of rentals every ten (10) years and when necessary shall provide for remitting by the lessees, that the real estate shall not be mortgaged and the buildings thereon shall be kept fully insured.

If any clause or provision of the foregoing testamentary gift should be found to be invalid in law, it shall not invalidate the gift as a whole but shall go into as possible be construed as an expression of my general intent.

While I think that Boston has now few, if any, superiors as beauty and in the many privileges it affords to its citizens, yet I believe it has greater possibilities for the future, and there are several public blessings among those afforded by other cities, —such as a zoological garden and handsome buildings, therefore, as a [illegible] of substantial proportions for public gatherings, etc.—which we do not possess. It is with such things as these in mind that I have established the foregoing trust fund.

I can conceive that pressure might be brought to bear to use the income of this Fund for small and comparatively unimportant needs, which might be really deserving and technically within the general scope of the Trust as heretofore expressed. In case of it for such purposes to give such small gifts, any neglect or failure to comply with the provisions of the contract of perpetual care, as well as Article First of this my will, in regard to the care of said lot, and it shall be the duty of said trustees to see that such neglect or lack of care be remedied without delay.

CERTIFICATE OF AUDITORS

We have made an examination of the books and records of the George Robert White Fund for the year ended December 31, 1939. In connection therewith we obtained from the depository bank confirmation of the amount of cash on deposit, examined the securities held at the time of our examination and reconciled them with those shown to be held at December 31, 1939. In the case of tenants under leases, we found that rentals were charged in accordance with the provisions of the leases as amended in certain instances by vote of the trustees, and in the case of tenants at will that the rates were those in accordance with rates authorized by the manager. We reviewed collections made and records of changes in tenants and rentals which indicated that it would be more than adequate to provide for losses of rent and accounts charged off as uncollectible were approved by vote of the trustees. The remaining accounts receivable from tenants, totalling $94,843.63 at December 31, 1939 were not confirmed by direct correspondence with the tenants, but we saw that $43,351.07 of this amount prior to the close of our examination, accounts amounting to $39,401.63 were dealt with by the law department for collection, and, of the remainder $14,291.56, aggregating $1,110 were considered to be doubtful of collection. All income received from securities was accounted for.

We found that all disbursements were supported by approved invoices and orders and were authorized by vote of the trustees. Purchases and sales of securities were ratified by vote of the trustees duly approved, and by votes of the trustees.

Based upon such examination, in our opinion, the accompanying statements correctly set forth the cash receipts and disbursements relating to both principal and income for the year ended December 31, 1939, together with the investments of the Fund at that date.

INVESTMENT

In the expenditure of the Net Income of the Fund—"for existing works of public utility and beauty, or for the establishment of new ones"—the Trustees have adopted a policy of establishing Health Units in various sections of the City and have completed seven, in the hope of thus being able—by proper instruction—to better the living and health conditions of the communities in the congested districts.

In the Summer of 1932, the Trustees voted to purchase seventeen parcels of real estate, bounded by Hanover Street, Webster Avenue and Unity Street, in the North End—and containing approximately 24,000 square feet—as a site for a Health Unit. In 1933 the Trustees voted to change the name of the Fund to East Boston Mall.

In the Spring of 1936 the Trustees voted to establish a Wading Pool and Locker Building in the Spring on the site of the Whittier Street Health Unit, Roxbury. The Wading Pool and Locker Building have been completed and are now in full operation for the use and enjoyment of the inhabitants of the City.

George A. Murray, President of the City Council, served as Trustee to December 31, 1939.

Eliot Wadsworth, President of the Chamber of Commerce, served as Trustee to September 13 1939.

Damon E. Hill, President of the Bar Association of the City of Boston, served as Trustee to October 7, 1939.

JOSEPH F. O'CONNELL,
Manager.

26th Division in Big Maneuvers

The 26th Division, Massachusetts National Guard, will take part in the greatest army maneuvers since the World War which will be held in the vicinity of Watertown, N. Y. Aug. 3-31.

More than 100,000 officers and men of the regular army, plus national guard and organized reserve, will be represented from many eastern states.

Children Given Concert

Arthur Fiedler and his 72 Boston Symphony Orchestra musicians gave children of Boston their own program today at the Edward Hatch Memorial Shell on Storrow Embankment, in a brave departure from tradition of evening shadows and moonlight for such presentations.

It was one of the most varied and entertaining programs of the season with selections from Beethoven, the oldest composer, to Hadley and his fantastically bewitching melody from Walt Disney's cartoon, Pinocchio.

Tonight's program:

8:30 p. m.

A. Polonaise from "Eugen Onegin" Tchaikovsky

B. Symphony No. 2, in D major Beethoven
First two movements
I. Allegro non troppo
II. Adagio non troppo

C. Prelude to "The Mastersingers of Nuremburg" Wagner

D. Waltzes from "Der Rosenkavalier" R. Strauss

E. The Swan Saint Saens
'Cello solo: H. Dreghimans

F. Scherzo from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" Mendelssohn

G. Thunder and Lightning, Polka J. Strauss

HAMMERING HENRY Armstrong, the fastest human in the boxing game, does not intend to permit his chin to linger in the path of Lew Jenkins' right hand when they battle in a 12-round non-title bout at the Polo Grounds, New York a week from tonight. Armstrong plans to overpower Jenkins by the speed and brilliancy of his attack.

LEW JENKINS

I talked with Armstrong at Jersey City the night Max Baer knocked fat Tony Galento back into the also ran class.

"I study an opponent like a student does his books before a college examination," said Armstrong. "I find that Jenkins has won most of his bouts by his ability to hit. His best sock is a right hand smash to the jaw.

"If I were to stand off and box at long range, I would leave myself open to be nailed by right hand punches. I realize Jenkins has an excellent chance to stop anybody he can belt with his right duke.

"Instead of boxing at long range, I plan to force the issue. I will keep on top of Jenkins which will make it impossible for him to get much power behind his right hand drives.

"Remember the night I lifted Barney Ross' world's welterweight title? Ross was a good right hand hitter at the time. I kept crowding Barney and kept him so busy he couldn't get into position to land a single effective right hand blow.

"I shall be in the best possible condition for Jenkins. Lew was good enough to knock out Lou Ambers and is deserving of top rating. My Boston bouts with Paul Junior and Ralph Zanelli were helpful.

"Zeramby is one of the best punchers I have ever met. He hit me with one sock that almost tipped me over. It took me almost a minute to shake off the effects of the blow."

* * *

Ambers Was Beaten by Low Weight

IT WAS LOW weight more than Jenkins' punches that beat Ambers. Lou was weak at 135 pounds. He was slow at this weight and it was easy for Jenkins to catch up with him.

During the past year, Ambers' best bouts have been at 138 pounds. Lou has been growing, and will soon be a 140-pounder.

Armstrong is naturally small, and despite his statements that he would like to be battling Jenkins at the welterweight limit of 147 pounds Hammering Henry will be strong when he enters the ring on next Wednesday night. He will be able to set a dizzy pace every second he is in the ring, and will probably be a favorite to win.

The bout has attracted more interest than any outdoor show arranged for the Greater New York area this year, and it should be replete with thrills. A puncher like Jenkins against a speed boxer like

'Hunch' Put West In All-Star Game

NATIONAL'S HERO RETIRES—Max West of Bees, Casey Stengel's own "boy," retires early after All-Star game in St. Louis in which he proved hero by clouting 360-homer with two men on. National League stars won, 4-0. Max was up early this morning, hiking to Chicago to join mates, despite his bruised hip.

ST. LOUIS, July 10 (AP)—At noon it was a hunch—nothing more—that caused Manager Bill McKechnie to insert Max West of Boston in the starting lineup of the National Circuit in the annual Major League All-Star baseball game.

Thirteen minutes after the contest was under way, it was a brilliant piece of strategy as West deposited a three-run homer in the right field bleachers and started his mates toward a 4 to 0 triumph over the American League.

MAX'S HOME RUN

McKechnie's belief that Mel Ott of the New York Giants, listed to start in right field until shortly before game time, would be of more value in the late innings when that garden would be the sun field prompted the Deacon to make the change.

"It was my hunch that Ott, who is older and more experienced, would be a bit steadier in the sun, and that is the only reason for the change," McKechnie said.

West's knockout punch before a man was out in the first combined with an assortment of all-star pitching produced the third National League victory and the first shutout of the competition.

Five hurlers the Nationals summoned to the mound—Paul Derringer and Bucky Walters of the Reds, Whit Wyatt of Brooklyn, Larry French of the Cubs and Carl Hubbell of the Giants—doled out but three hits.

WEST HURT

Luke Appling of the Chicago White Sox, collected a double and a single, and Buck Newsom, the bellicose Detroit flinger, cracked a one-baser. Never did the losers have more than one runner on the paths, and Appling was the only one to get beyond second.

It was the White Sox shortstop's double off Derringer in the second that brought about West's removal.

The Boston outfielder tried to make a leaping catch and slammed into the concrete retaining wall. He suffered a bruised hip but it expected to play again tomorrow when action is resumed in the big leagues after a three-day layoff.

But West wasn't the only lumi-

Postponement Favors Scalzo

HARTFORD, Conn., July 10 (AP)—Petey Scalzo puts up his world's featherweight crown tonight in meeting Bobby Ivy of Hartford in a 15-round championship bout that was postponed from last night when a thunderstorm soaked the stadium just before the start of proceedings.

Scalzo, who weighed in yesterday at 125½, the same as his opponent, and won't have to repeat the formalities today, was an 8 to 5 favorite with his chances getting better through the delay.

The storm, which drenched some 1000 ringside seats together with others not sheltered by the grandstand, disappointed hundreds of fans, many of them from out of the state.

The ticket sale up to last night indicated an attendance of approximately 7000.

Financial Shots Dethrone Ted Adams

Quincy Boy Hard Put To Raise Caddy's Fee

By BILL GRIMES

WEST PEABODY, July 10—Teddy Adams, 19-year old from North Quincy, is destined to be the fourth state amateur golf title holder who failed to qualify when called upon to defend his crown.

Twelve years ago, Eddie Lowery missed out at Essex County, which course also stopped Dave Whiteside two years ago. At Winchester in 1937, Clark Hodder failed to pass the stroke test.

Adams hedn't played enough golf to expect to qualify, despite stories to the contrary. He wasn't born with a silver spoon in his mouth, and the truth of the matter is that he cannot afford to play golf.

If he had been in trim, Adams never would have taken 84 blows to get around the Salem Country Club. He was on his way to take a 44 or 45 to the turn but he managed to "birdie" the 8th and 9th holes.

He is not hitting his shots. In fact, he looks as though he had altered his swing to no avail.

The fact that he failed to qualify here two years ago in the state junior championship didn't have any bearing on Teddy's lack of success yesterday. He didn't carry any mental hazard here as to the course. His mental hazard was finances, which are practically nil.

Of course, there still is a chance for him to make the grade. He has the shots to stay with the best in the game but if he continues to worry about where the caddy's fees are coming from, he will be through at the end of the second round this afternoon.

As the second round started this morning, there were more than Adams on the ragged edge. The field scored so well in the first round that no less than 54 of the 114 contestants broke 89.

Mel Merritt was pacing the field with his sub par 71 but Art Peterson, Oak Hill, who was the unsuccessful finalist in '37; Joe Batchelder, who is a former New England amateur titleholder, and Johnny McNiff, both of the entertaining club, were all ten strokes higher.

Joey Hoffman, Wollaston, got down to the middle 70's to make the grade for he posted an even 80 for his first round.

In all probability there will be a general shakeup in the summary when today's scores are posted. There are four practically unknowns in second place, and they'll feel the pressure during this final test. Moreover, the course will play longer today due to the heavy shower which hit here last night.

Salem Country Club is leading with 382 for the Windeler Shield, with Trapelo in second place, followed by Green Hill and George Wright.

At the end of the second round the low 32 will be paired for match play, which starts tomorrow with two 18-hole rounds. After the quarter and semi-finals on Friday the finalists will play 36 holes for the title.

RACE MOGULS TO MEET

NEW YORK, July 10 (AP)—The mid-summer convention of the National Association of State Racing Commissioners will be held in New York, July 25-26, President John Sloan announced today.

BUNNY WILSON CARL NETTLEBLADT FRANK MORAN

RIPPER—Bunny Wilson, South Shore, and Carl Nettlebladt, Green Hill, look on amusingly as Frank Moran dissertates on the perils of gold. Moran was so disgusted with his play in the first round of the state amateur that he tore up his card. Wilson was in four-way tie for second with 73 but Nettlebladt had nothing to laugh about, for he was 79, right on the ragged edge.

Sforza Duels Vitagliano In Dilboy Show Tonight

There will be at least 20 bouts on tap tonight at Dilboy Field, Somerville, when George Dilboy Post, V. F. W., stages its third elimination round in the 1940 Golden Glove Championships under the floodlights—the opening match to get under way at 8:15 p. m.

Competition, presenting the best in New England amateur fistic circles, will be in the 126, 135, 147, 160 pound and heavyweight classes.

Featuring the carnival will be the return of Guy Vitagliano, Medford, in the bantamweight division. Vitagliano, boasting victories over Harold Harris, title-holder, and Dick Volpe, will be making his first appearance since last fall.

The Medford boy appears to be the class in the 126-pounders but he can expect a lot of fight from Al Sforza, Boston, Sforza turned in a fine performance last week.

The middle and heavyweights promise to provide the fans with some first class slug-fests. In the 160-pound class Austin Elder, Cambridge, Charlie Peters, Somerville, and John Lucugus, Boston, appear to have the edge over other entries.

Boston's John Pretzie looms as the winner among the heavies with Lester Glover, Revere, the big obstacle in his path.

Gotham Girls Add Power To Pets' Foe

Not only do the Linden Girls' of Newark, New Jersey, boast of one of the best softball teams in the east, but they are about the only organization which is completely feminine from the batgirl down to the manager.

This undefeated nine that invades the North Station Garden tomorrow night to battle the Boston Olympets, is coached by Toots Nusse.

Aside from handling the managerial reins, Toots also does quite a bit of mound work. And with Hattie Nichaels, backstopper and coach, the New Jersey aggregation is completely made up of members of the fair sex.

Two of New York's most brilliant performers will be seen with the Skeeter State array. They are Rose Sena and Rose DeRosa.

Bill Holland Bids For Auto Conquest

THOMPSON, Ct., July 10—With Bill Holland of New Rochelle, N. Y., leading the pack, more than 20 speed merchants will highlight the regular Thompson Speedway auto races here Sunday.

Holland, who shattered a world's mark of 25.05 seconds for a half mile established by Ted Horn of Indianapolis fame and former world's champion, is anxious to better his 25.01 feat. In addition to Horn who will also be in the feature race, other prominent drivers are Joie Chitwood of Oklahoma and Dave Randolph of Freeport, L. I.

BEES REST AFTER WIN AT 'FARM'

CHICAGO, July 10—The Boston Bees arrived today feeling right chipper, thank you.

They had come from Evansville, Ind., where they had defeated their farm hands in a night exhibition game, 6-3, after learning that Max West was the hero of the all-star game in St. Louis.

On top of that, they had defeated the Dodgers twice last Sunday in their last scheduled league games.

So today, as they rested here for their series with the Cubs which opens the second half of the season tomorrow, they feel they are ready to play their best ball of the season, and that they will do much better from here in than they did in the first three months of campaigning.

Their pitching has perked up considerably since Manuel Salvo joined the club, and if Al Piechota ever gets rid of his boils they'll have another ace to help out Bill Posedel, Joe Sullivan and Dick Errickson.

And it just might be that they have another star in the making in the person of Ace Williams, youngster from Amherst College, who pitched against the farm hands at Evansville.

Williams, in his first appearance with the Bees, held the farmers to four hits in six innings before he gave way to a pinch hitter. The kid showed pretty good control for a novice, and a nice curve ball.

He was aided greatly by the hitting of Gene Moore, who got three baseHits, one of them a home run. Chet Ross contributed a triple to the cause.

BOXING RESULTS

NORWALK, Ct.—Angelo Rednao, Norwalk, 134, outdistanced Eddie Vercia, 135, New York, eight rounds.

WEST HAVEN, Ct.—Willie Andrews, 134½, New Haven, outstanced Lloyd Lasky, 134½, New York, eight rounds. Art McAlpine, 169½, Springfield, Mass., stopped Jimmy Weed, 168½, New Haven, in fourth round of scheduled six.

Dykes Mad at Sox: Bans Trips During Three-Day Respite

By Associated Press

Patty Berg, who was to have officially turned pro yesterday, has postponed the ceremony until tomorrow or Friday . . . From the coast comes word Jack Dempsey has sold his Barbara Hotel at Los Angeles at a loss—which may be the tip-off why Jack finds it necessary to tour the provinces consorting with wrestlers.

Rumor foundry: That by 1945 (which gives a decent interval for quietly giving Chicago the heave-ho) the Big Ten will replace the Maroons with Nebraska from the Big Six . . . Highest paid manager in the minors is Jack Lelivelt of Seattle—15,000 potatoes per.

BOY, IS HE MAD

Jimmy Yykes is so sore at some of his White Sox he forbade the players to leave town during the three-day All-Star game respite . . . Olivia De Havilland, he film star, has placed herself under the wing of big Olin Dutra on the Coast and told him to get her ready for the tourneys.

The Dodgers, who are playing the Owl Circuit this week, had to take along four Brooklyn semi-pros to catch up the slack caused by the all-star game and hospital list . . . Dave Castilloux, the Canadian lightweight king, openly charges Sammy Angott is ducking him and Baby Arizmendi is singing a similar hymn of hate.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

"Si" Burick, Dayton, Ohio: "Somebody suggested Barney M'Cosky and Dixie Walker, who were ignored in the all-star selections, must feel like a football team that wins all its games and then isn't invited to the Rose Bowl." . . . Or like Ed (they done him wrong) Oliver.

HE'S THE GOAT

Ken Keltner, who (a) asked the unemployment insurance and (b) was one of the Cleveland cry babies, is getting it going and coming these days. The White Sox bore down so hard in a double-header, Keltner went to bat nine times and didn't get a foul. Jimmy Dykes yelled:

"There's only one thing worse than you, Keltner, and that's the war."

Auburn thinks it will hang up some sort of record this fall by playing four of last January's Bowl teams—Tulane, Georgia Tech, Clemson and Boston College . . . Classified page: The University of Tampa wants a game for Nov. 15, either at home or abroad.

JOB WANTED

Don McNeill, the tennis star, is all dressed up with no place to go . . . Recently he completed four years of study for the foreign diplomatic service at Kenyon College . . . Now he's thinking of learning another trade, the demand for ambassadors being what it is.

COUSIN JOE

The National League gives Cronin thanks for playing all those bombless Yanks.

Clerk Caress In Feature At Revere

C. A. Rhodes' Clark Caress, one of the few greyhounds to run the 5-16 mile course at Wonderland in 31 3-5 seconds, opposes a feature race field at the Revere track tonight.

Facing the speedy son of Traffic Court are Blue Label, Twitter, Rock Springs, Try Again, John LaFarge, Dark Victc / and Mutton Soup.

In the final number on the card, racing Secretary Bill Fineran has named eight greyhounds to go the Revere Course distance of 675 yards.

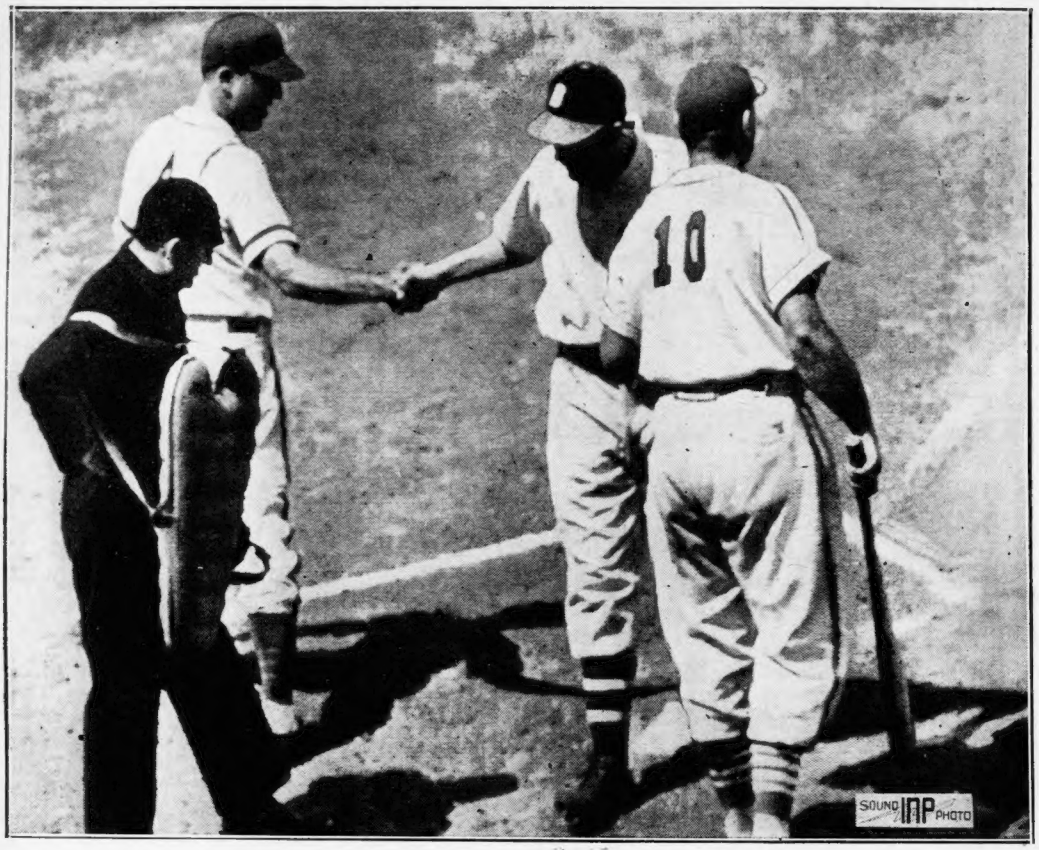
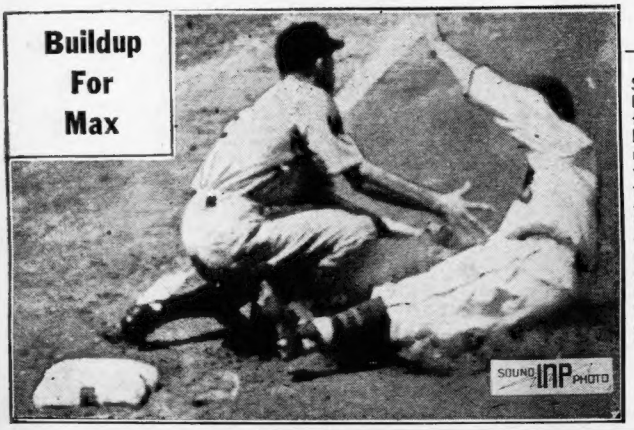
WEST SHINES BRIGHTEST OF ALL STARS

EVENING AMERICAN, WEDNESDAY, JULY 10, 1940



THE BALL GAME — Bees' Max West crosses plate after three - run first inning home run against A. L. All-Stars in St. Louis. Arky Vaughan and Bill Herman were on base when Max arched his 360-foot drive into the right field pavilion. That's Herman, No. 4, shaking his hand. Johnny Mize, No. 10, of Cards is next hitter. Umpire is Beans Reardon, of N. L. Senior Leaguers won game, 4-0, the first shutout in eight-year history of the inter-league series. West was injured in the second inning when he crashed into the right field wall while leaping for a liner by Luke Appling, and had to leave the game. He bruised his left hip.

Buildup For Max



SAFE — Arky Vaughan of Pirates slides safely into third in first inning of All-Star game on Billy Herman's single to right. Both scored moment later on Max West's home run.

STARTING PITCHER — Charlie Ruffing, of Yankees, left, and Paul Derringer, of Reds, who were elected to open All-Star game. Max West hit his homer with two on off Ruffing in the first inning but Derringer was unhittable in his two-inning tenure, and was the game's winning pitcher.

Armstrong is certain to furnish tremendous action.

COL. E. R. BRADLEY'S Bimelech has been displaying remarkable form in workouts at Suffolk Downs . . . He did a mile and an eighth in 2:07 4-5 . . . It is likely that Bimelech will compete in an overnight handicap at the East Boston track before going to Arlington Downs to take part in the classic on July 20 . . . The classic is restricted to 3-year-olds . . . The Bradley horse is not eligible for the $50,000 Massachusetts Handicap next Wednesday afternoon.

Random Shots at Target

DISTRICT ATTORNEY William Foley will attend the Democratic Convention in Chicago . . . The District Attorney will take an active part in the Democratic campaign . . . It cost $100 to nominate a horse for the Massachusetts Handicap . . . Another $1000 must be paid by the owner of each starter.

Red McIntosh, Tommy Luther, Harry Robertson, Abe Savran, Avery Brown and Tom Shehan will make up a race track delegation to see Bobby Jones, Fred Wright, Francis Ouimet and Jesse Guilford play in the Red Cross Charity Match at The Country Club on Sunday . . . Now that Eddie Mack has learned that Jimmy Daniels, Challedon's groom, was welterweight champ of the Pacific Fleet while in the U. S. Navy, he wants to sign him for Lou Smith's Athletic Night at Rockingham Park . . . Jockey Willie Prehm, who rides the Weston W. Adams horses at Suffolk Downs, recently joined the ranks of the Benedicts . . . He married a Detroit girl.

Swifty SAYS:

"There's a youngster in tonight's feature which will sure make me throw it into high gear. He calls himself Clerk Carson, and I've already had five close decisions over him, one of which was over the 5-16 in 21.3, best time of the meeting. So come on down if you want to see a real speed demonstration!"

Sox Wait White Hose

And sit it out they may, for the v. p. in charge of schedule arranging has declared a holiday in both leagues today to enable the All Stars to wend their way back to their respective teams.

The game, incidentally, was the chief topic of discussion among the Hose, the ball players indulging in that old prerogative of the fan—second guessing.

ALL UP FOR DOERR

Attention was drawn early to the fact that Joe Gordon and Cleveland's Mack, who were chosen to split the second base assignment while Bobby Doerr was ignored, failed to get even a tiny piece of the pellet all afternoon.

Gordon fanned in both appearances at the plate, while Mack was struck out by Larry French in his one trip to the platter.

Bobby Doerr

The Sox who stayed at home were unanimous in declaring that Doerr's presence in the lineup would have aided the American League, both at the dish and in the field. Three of the N. L. hits were ground balls past second base.

Late today, if the weather holds up, the Sox plan to work out at Fenway to prepare themselves for tomorrow's invasion of the White Sox.

Clan Cronin intends to resume where it left off on its last western trip against the Chicagoans. Out in windy Chicago the Red Sox lambasted the Dykesmen four straight and hope to accomplish the same feat in this series.

WHALE LUMBERMEN

The Red Sox had plenty of chances to sharpen their sight down at Brockton last night, where they slaughtered the Taunton Lumber Co. nine, 20 to 2, in an exhibition game.

Long distance clouting was the order of the day with the Sox sluggers flailing out six home runs, five of them clearing the fence of the Brockton diamond for the longest clouts ever seen in that city.

Jim Tabor was head hitsmith with two all-the-way clouts to his credit. DiMaggio, who also pickled one for a double, Spence, Doerr and Will Robinson accounted for the others.

Broadway Charlie Wagner hurled for the Hose and merely toyed with the Taunton club as he scattered seven hits over six innings. Webber finished the job.

Following the game the two teams were guests of honor at a banquet in Memorial Building, and each member of the Red Sox squad was given a pair of Brockton made shoes.

Additional pairs were given for each homerun.

DEACON PLAYED WEST ON 'HUNCH'

nary in the contest which probably was thrilling as any yet played, although the winners dominated all the way.

Lilly Herman, the Cub second baseman, laced out three hits—equal of the entire opposition output—and late in the fracas a double play by Eddie Miller of Boston, Pete Coscarat of Brooklyn and Frank McCormick of Cincinnati nipped a threat.

"SECONDS" SCORE

And after McKechnie pulled his first team the "seconds" scored the fourth run off Cleveland's great Bob Feller in the eighth but they needed an error by Catcher Rollie Hemsley to chase the tally across.

Aside from Appling's robust clouting the losers' chief contribution to the entertainment of the 32,373 fans was the fielding of Joe Gordon, Yank second sacker.

Although his players grabbed the spotlight, the contest did nothing to dim the luster of McKechnie.

His choice of West, who climaxed the first assault on Charley Ruffing, was an admitted "lucky hunch," but he catered to the St. Louis crowd by playing their own Terris Moore in center field the full nine innings although he used 22 of the 25 players allowed him.

USES BOTH ACES

Only Manager-Shortstop Leo Durocher of Brooklyn and Pitchers Hugh Mulcahy and Kirby Higbe of the Phillies were inactive.

It was the Deacon's second victory of the year over an American all-star crew. He won a 2 to 1 verdict in a Florida spring contest.

In addition, he jeopardized the success of his league-leading Reds in this week-end's series with the second place Dodgers by giving the spectators a two-inning look at both his ace flingers.

Manager Joe Cronin sent 18 of his stars into the lineup but the best they could do was hoist five flies plus the three hits to the outfield.

Midgets Race For 7th Week At Topsfield

The spirited scramble for the New England midget auto racing championship will go into its seventh week on the floodlighted speedway at the Topsfield Fair Grounds tonight with the eventual winner as much in doubt as when the season started.

Jack Greenwood of Lowell, last year's rookie star, goes into tonight's speedfest with precarious hold on top position in the standing.

He is being hotly pursued by Frankie Simonetti of Watertown, Ed Eng of Jacksonville, Fla.; Tommy Simonetti, Eddie Casterline of Malden, Danny Murphy of Daytona Beach, Fla.; Charlie Street of Trenton, N. J.; Joe Sostillio of Newton, Herbie Colson of Hudson, N. H., and Oscar Ridlon of Roxbury.

Tonight's weekly Wednesday night speedfest will be climaxed by a 25-lap grind for the fastest drivers.

VICTIM'S CANE CLUE IN DEATH

Star of All-Star Game Injured—Hurt in the second inning of the All-Star game between National and American League top-notchers, Max West, Boston Bee outfielder (arrow) on the turf at St. Louis Sportsman's Park after crashing into the right field wall in a desperate leap for an Appling hit liner. Maxie's three-run homer in the first inning was the highlight of the game . . . and was chiefly responsible for the National's 4 to 0 victory. Max suffered an injured left hip . . . but he'll be playing Thursday. Among the players aiding Max here are Johnnie Mize (10), Arky Vaughn (5) and Ducky Medwick.
